

Many Die From Food Poisoning

Forty-four Are Dead; 400 Ill, After Eating Frozen Eggs

SALEM, Ore., Nov. 19.—(AP)—Forty-four insane inmates of the Oregon state hospital have died from an unidentified poison—possibly contained in frozen eggs—and a corps of physicians struggled today to save the lives of more than 400 other men and women.

The poison struck swiftly and within 15 minutes after dinner last night, at which the eggs were served, the victims began complaining of violent cramps. Within an hour the poison had caused the first death. By 10 p. m., five hours after the meal, 10 had died. By midnight, the toll had reached 32. By four a. m. the total was reported to have reached 40.

Dr. J. C. Evans, hospital superintendent, said:

"They had nausea, vomited up blood, and showed evidence of an acute toxic condition. Respiratory paralysis and violent cramps in the legs preceded death."

"Those who were not strong passed out immediately and died." Dr. Evans expressed the belief that the eggs, obtained from the federal surplus commodities corporation, contained some poison, or were toxic because of some chemical reaction.

L. E. Barrick, Marion county coroner, called for an immediate investigation.

All the deaths, 38 men and 6 women, occurred in four wards. Inmates of a fifth were ill, Dr. Evans said, but an attendant there tasted the eggs before they were served, and allowed only a small amount to be eaten.

The superintendent said that a third of the two-ton shipment of eggs had been served previously without ill effects. They were received two or three months ago from the government agency packed in two-gallon tin containers, and were frozen en route from Portland in a refrigerator truck.

Upon arrival in Salem, they were placed in the hospital's cold storage room, where a temperature of zero Fahrenheit is maintained.

Part of five tins were served at luncheon yesterday in rice pudding, and the remainder scrambled for dinner.

Eggs similarly prepared had been delivered to other state institutions, Dr. Evans said, and eaten without ill effect.

In Washington, Dr. P. B. Dunbar, assistant chief of the federal food and drug administration said food inspectors and chemists from his agency would be sent to cooperate with Oregon authorities investigating the food poisoning.

He said that the food and drug administration would want to check up on the sources of the frozen eggs so that steps might be taken to prevent outbreaks elsewhere.

Halt Use of Frozen Eggs

ATLANTA, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Use of frozen egg yolks in the southeast has been halted until a complete investigation can be made of the death of more than two score inmates of the Oregon State mental hospital in Salem, Colonel James E. Palmer, regional administrator of the agricultural marketing administration, said today.

Bell Telephone Co. Nets Large Income

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 19.—(AP)—After making allowance for increased federal taxes under the new revenue act, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company reported today its net income in the three months ended Sept. 30 was $3,607,193 or 10 per cent less than its earnings for the same period last year. The company operates 683 exchanges in Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas and part of Illinois.

Will Offer Horse Meat For Sale

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Horse meat soon is to make its appearance in meat markets here—for those who want it.

Packer A. Gianni has announced plans for building a plant for slaughtering horses from western states and marketing the meat for human consumption.

"There are thousands of people who have eaten horse meat," says Gianni. "The sale or consumption of horse meat to those who care to eat it will help solve the shortage of beef, pork and lamb."

Health authorities say there is no law prohibiting sale of such meat.

Soldier Hit By Car Early This Morning

Suffers Fracture Of Leg, Concussion Of The Brain

Private First Class William B. Osborn, stationed at the United States Army Air Base near Knob Noster, was seriously injured about one o'clock this morning when struck by an automobile in the 900 block on West Broadway. The car, driven by Lloyd Luckey, 667 East Fifteenth street, was going west at the time of the accident.

Private Osborn received a compound fracture of the right leg just below the knee, a severe concussion of the brain, abrasions on the left hand, the left side of his chin and a bruise on the left temple. He was still in a semi-conscious condition this noon.

Mr. Luckey stated he had had trouble starting his car while downtown and a soldier from the Army Air Base had pushed his car to help get it started. He said he asked the soldier where he was headed and when told he was going back to the Base, Mr. Luckey offered to take him back. They were driving along and Mr. Luckey said his intention was to pick up some other boys and give them a ride.

Saw Soldier In Street

"As I was driving along, I saw the soldier walking along the street about four or five feet from the curb. I started to slow down with the intention of stopping and giving him a ride back to the Base and as I drove nearer where he was walking, he suddenly stepped out in front of the car. The car didn't go ten feet, I do believe, when I was at a complete stop," Mr. Luckey said.

"A taxi cab with a second lieutenant and some other soldiers was passing and stopped almost immediately. They told me they

Episcopal Rector Kiwanis Speaker

"After the War—A Just and Durable Peace," was the theme of a talk by Rector Fordyce Eastburn, of Calvary Episcopal church, before the Sedalia Kiwanis club meeting in Bothwell hotel Thursday noon.

The speaker was introduced by the Rev. H. M. Janssen, program chairman.

Joe Rosenthal called attention to the observance of "Women at War Week," next week in Sedalia and asked for the co-operation of members in supporting this activity.

Boyd Lewis, formerly a member of the Hiawatha, Kas., Kiwanis club, and new manager of the Goodyear store in Sedalia, was introduced as a new member of the Sedalia club by Ed McLaughlin, chairman of the Education committee.

Announcement was made that next week's meeting will be held Wednesday noon instead of Thursday which is Thanksgiving Day.

The club voted to change the date of the Christmas party from the evening of December 17 to December 16 because of a conflicting date with high school activities.

Guests today were Kiwanian J. W. Smith, Elwood, Ill., and Chaplain Harold, of the U. S. Army air base with W. C. Wining.

Women's Democratic Club Will Meet Saturday Afternoon

The Women's Democratic club of Pettis county will meet at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Herman Myers, on West Fifth street. There will be regular business transacted and officers elected.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa, Nov. 19.—(AP)—"There is nothing new to report," said a brief communique from allied headquarters tonight.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Battered and torn by many Japanese shells and once given up for lost, the American light cruiser Boise came home from the Solomon Islands battle zone today with the extraordinary record of having been chiefly instrumental in sinking six Japanese warships in a single engagement.

The 10,000-ton vessel, classed as a light cruiser because she bears only six inch guns, docked at the Philadelphia navy yard where her skipper, Captain E. J. (Mike) Moran of San Francisco, was greeted by Admiral Ernest J. King, commander in chief of the United States fleet. King had made a special trip from Washington to welcome the heroic vessel and its crew.

The Boise lost three officers and 104 men killed in the violent night battle which occurred off Cape Esperance, Guadalcanal, on October 11-12 when a cruiser-destroyer task force intercepted a Japanese cruiser-destroyer and transport force bearing troops to the southern Solomon Islands.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—(AP)—The Belgian government in exile announced today that it was relinquishing extraterritorial rights in China immediately, following the lead of the United States and Britain.

BERLIN (From the German broadcasts) Nov. 19.—(AP)—German military quarters said tonight that the first land clash between German and allied troops in the fight for Tunisia had taken place along the Tunisian coast just beyond the Algerian border.

Advance units of the two forces met, but no major fighting developed, these sources said.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—(AP)—A Japanese battleship or heavy cruiser, and a destroyer were sunk and another battleship, a cruiser and a destroyer were damaged by an American battleship task force in a naval battle in the Guadalcanal area of the Solomon Islands last Saturday night and early Sunday morning, the navy reported today.

Great Industrial Developments In Fighting French Territory

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
CAIRO, Nov. 19.—Major offensives like the allied drives to destroy the axis in North Africa draw their striking power from many sources and present operations are getting great strength from a strategic development which has been achieved so quietly that many of its features still remain secret.

Since this is likely to play an increasingly important part in the Mediterranean campaign, it is necessary that we know something of it.

So if you'll dig out your maps of Africa I will show you what I mean.

Now, if you will flip a dime—or these being hard times, make it a nickel—towards the heart of the dark continent, and you are a fair shot, it will fall close to a big panel known as French Equatorial Africa.

That is the Fighting French territory, which has Chad on the north and reaches southward to include Ubangi-Shari, the French

Bowery Folks Asked To Get Into War Work

New York Wants Vagrants To Lay Off Cheap Liquor

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—(AP)—The war reached into the Bowery today, as the city called on the men of the flophouses to lay off the cheap liquor and get into useful war work.

Up and down the dingy street of dirty saloons, special police squads kept a sharp eye open for men whom some call bums and some say are gentlemen who reside on the Bowery. Some of the vagrants took it with a shrug; others seemed willing to gamble with work.

In the opening drive to clean up the Bowery and fashion new war workers, the police picked 202 vagrants, including two women, into precincts last night to prepare them for court appearance.

Some had no draft registration cards. Many were too old for the draft. Ten boasted of working in skilled trades in happier days. Chief Magistrate Henry H. Curran said that the aim of the magistrates before whom the Bowery folk would be arraigned would be to "hook them up with jobs."

"Bowery Gentlemen"

"For years I've worked with the so-called Bowery bums," Curran said. "They're not bums but gentlemen who reside on the Bowery. They don't kill, injure, steal or defame."

"They are thoughtful and generous to the last drop of liquor and the last cigarette. They will share with their buddies."

Curran said they were not understood.

"Most of them like liquor and dislike work, one as much as the other," he said. "A great many can work and a great many more are unfit."

Some Worth Saving

"It seemed to me two weeks ago that we should change our acquaintance with the Bowery bums and hook them up with jobs. x x x The men are held five days and cleaned up. Some will take jobs. Some will work for a few days and leave. But if we can save one out of 50 it is worth doing."

The Bowery, somberly quiet, offered no gambling dens of yesterday. A couple of the boys picked up a cigarette butt thrown on the sidewalk in front of what was once the Chatham theater, where "Uncle Tom's Cabin" first played 90 years ago. A few small shops conducted routine business. Otherwise it was just a street.

Forecast Alliance Between Germans And Vichy France

LONDON, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Fighting French sources forecast today a full military alliance between Germany and Vichy France granting the axis the use of the 64 ships in the fleet at Toulon as one possible outcome of Pierre Laval's new dictatorial powers.

Such an alliance, if it develops, probably would follow a peace treaty between Germany and France releasing more than 1,000,000 French prisoners who likely would be recalled into French armed services, these sources suggested.

Isolation Of Hitler By High Germans

Reports Are They Believe Now He Cannot Win War

LONDON, Nov. 19.—(AP)—A responsible foreign diplomatic source who cannot be further identified said today that an important junta of aristocratic German military leaders, convinced that Hitler cannot win the war, has begun to "isolate" the fuhrer in order to establish themselves favorably with the allies in the event of a stalemate, peace or defeat.

The foreign diplomatic source, who said he believed his information is reliable, declared leaders of the junta included Field Marshal General Walther von Brauchitsch, who was dismissed as army commander-in-chief last winter after counseling against Hitler's winter campaign against Moscow; Field Marshal Fedor von Bock, who was ousted in the midst of the drive against Stalingrad this fall, and their followers. Both these generals are reported to have disagreed with Hitler's strategy.

Others In Group

Also included in the junta, it was reported, are Gen. Franz Halder, who like von Bock wanted to withdraw the southern German armies behind the Don before it was too late this fall; Gen. Fritz Erich von Mannstein, Field Marshal Gen. Karl Rudolf Gerd von Rundstedt and Gen. Johannes Blaskowitz.

Advices from usually reliable quarters inside Germany and occupied countries, the informant said, indicated that two prime factors were behind the formation of the defeatist junta—increasing dissatisfaction with Hitler's intuition as a guide to strategy, and

No Decision On St. Louis Base

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Secretary of War Stimson said today plans to use Jefferson Barracks, Mo., exclusively for the training of Negro troops was being studied by the army, but no decision had been reached.

Stimson had been asked if the army planned to devote several camps solely to the training of Negro troops in view of the large increase in the number of Negroes in the army under the selective service system.

The secretary replied that in general the army plan was to train Negroes in a number representing the ratio of Negroes to whites in the civilian population and "I know that the plans for training the army as a whole, of which this training is a part, are going along very well."

Stimson said he was not familiar with the exact status of studies concerning the designation of various camps for the training of Negro troops, but was aware that such a plan had been proposed for Jefferson Barracks, although no decision had been reached.

Stimson said the efforts to maintain within the army a definite proportion of Negro troops in relation to the civilian population did not apply within any particular branch of the army such as the air forces, but "so far as possible, the proportion will be maintained."

Allies Converge Toward Four Way Squeeze to Wipe Enemy Armies From North Africa

Japanese Will Need Time To Replace Last Week's Losses

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—(AP)—It will take the Japanese at least three weeks and possibly much longer to pull themselves together for another try at Guadalcanal.

That was the considered opinion of naval experts today after a detailed analysis of the staggering losses in ships, men and equipment suffered by the enemy in last week's rout.

These authorities, who asked to remain anonymous, were interested in but not unduly excited by the appearance of eight Japanese destroyers off the north coast of New Guinea yesterday. They said it was to be expected that enemy forces would be encountered from time to time. But, they declared, it requires considerable time and organization to assemble a major armada such as was beaten back last week.

Opportunity For Preparation

In the meantime, the delay will give United States forces an opportunity to replace their relatively small losses and build up their strength for what Secretary Knox already has labeled round 3 (coming up) of the battle for the Solomons.

In fact, it would not be surprising to many informed persons here if the marines and army troops on Guadalcanal took aggressive advantage of the enemy's predicament to improve their own positions which still encompass only a small area of land about the airport on the north coast of the island.

The last report on land fighting on Guadalcanal, covering activities of Nov. 10, said the United States troops were conducting offensive operations on both their eastern and western flanks. The failure of the Japanese, already outnumbered, to land any considerable reinforcements in their big push last Thursday, Friday and Saturday would seem to leave their forces open to attack, especially since it will be difficult if not impossible for them to obtain substantial supplies for some time to come.

Great Resources Necessary

Those familiar with the problems of collecting and equipping such a force as the Japs lost say that it requires weeks of the most carefully co-ordinated effort in the homeland arsenal as well as at the bases from which the attack is launched. The Japs might be able to get together in three weeks enough ships and fully equipped men to form another expedition but that would depend on their having great resources at their naval base on Truk island, about 1,500 miles northwest of Guadalcanal.

Otherwise their task will be complicated by the necessity of moving in men and supplies from other bases to the north and even from Japan itself and thus may require more time than the minimum estimated.

Wants Representation In Peace Conference

CAIRO, Nov. 19.—(AP)—King Farouk I said in a throne speech on the opening of a new session of parliament today that Egypt, non-belligerent, ally of the United Nations, had requested and received a promise of representation in any peace conferences to be held after the war.

Soviet Army On Offensive

German Command Says Reds Attacking Along The Don

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—(AP)—The German high command declared today that the resurgent Red army has gone from defensive warfare to violent new attacks on the Caucasus, along the Don, south of Leningrad and on the Rybach peninsula at the northernmost end of the Russian-Finnish frontier.

The Berlin radio broadcast of the communique from Adolf Hitler's headquarters claimed that the attacks had been repulsed, but suggested that they might be the prelude for a new winter comeback drive by the Soviet army.

The only advantage the Germans claimed was in the Tuapse sector along the Black sea coast of the Caucasus, where the communique said a Russian force had been cut off and annihilated, and in the air war, in which heavy losses were said to have been inflicted upon the Russians by German and Rumanian fighters and bombers.

Violent New Attacks

"Violent new attacks by the Russians east of Agadir (in the central Caucasus) were bloody

Fighting French Motorized Column Crossing Desert To Join Allies

BY E. C. DANIEL

LONDON, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Three of the toughest armies assembled by the United Nations since the start of the war converged on the Bizerte-Tripoli-Benghazi triangle today in fighting contact with axis forces while allied planes and parachute troops built up air power in preparation for the final assault to wipe the Germans and Italians from North Africa.

As the Americans and British squeezed the last axis foothold from east and west, a motorized column of Fighting French was reported driving up from the Lake Chad base 1,200 miles to the south to put the Lorraine Cross of Fighting France into the battle along with the tricolor of French North African garrisons which have joined with the allies.

Sweeping back outlying axis patrols, Lieut. Gen. Kenneth A. N. Anderson's first army—the veterans of Flanders—drove on into Tunisia from Algeria at several points in a sweep intended to trap and crush the German-Italian air-borne army reported digging in at Tunis, the capital, and Bizerte, the big naval base, against pro-allied French resistance.

Seizing Airfields

Leaping ahead of Anderson's ground forces, American and British paratroopers were seizing vital airfields for use by follow-up units of the United States Army air forces and the RAF which already were gunning their way through the axis aerial screen.

The RAF laid down a bomb barrage for Anderson's advance, while veteran battle-of-Britain squadrons engaged axis bomber flights, and United States flying fortresses turned their bomb-sights upon the axis-held Bizerte airfield.

From the east, the British Eighth Army overtook the rear-guard of Field Marshal Rommel's broken African corps south of Benghazi—well within 160 miles of the El Agheila line where the Nazi commander is expected to try a new stand.

Reuters said the Morocco radio reported that allied supply ships, meanwhile, had arrived at recaptured Tobruk to feed new force into the Eighth Army's Libyan drive. The broadcast did not specify whether the supplies were shipped from west to east through the contested Mediterranean, or came the long way around Africa and through the Suez canal.

Bombers Cross Alps

Long-range bombers soared across the Alps overnight for their fifth attack this month on Italy's ports and war industries. This time the target was Turin, home of the royal arsenal and the big Fiat airplane works. Not a bomber was lost. The Italians acknowledged once more that damage was heavy.

A Cairo communique reported a raid Tuesday night on the air-drome at Tunis, and indicated that the air war had been extended again over Sicily where it said a German bomber was destroyed.

Reuters reported from North Africa that four Spitfires attacked a flight of six Italian Savoia torpedo planes near an Algerian port, shot down four of them and drove the others away before they could attempt to discharge their torpedoes against an allied convoy.

Although the allied communique did not identify the points at which columns had driven into Tunisia, information here suggested that these followed the main road and rail routes: One from the Algerian port of Bone along the coast through Tabarca toward Bizerte; a second along a rail line from Tebessa, Algeria, toward Tunis; and a third, farther south, along a trail which runs through Gafsa to Gabes, where better roads lead on to Sfax and the coastal rail line to Tunis.

But, argued the company, "the employees who are members of the union would not be free to resign from the union without being discharged."

Gas Rationing May Hike Taxes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—(AP)—New taxes on personal and real property may become necessary in Missouri if gasoline rationing is made nation-wide, Rep. Bennett (R-Mo.) told congress today.

"Missourians are ready to make any sacrifice to win the war but they should not be forced to suffer needlessly," Bennett said.

"Rationing in Missouri would be like rationing hard coal in Scranton, Pa., oranges in Florida, oysters in Maryland and potatoes in Maine. Try that and see how the patriots of the eastern states who want nation-wide rationing of gas just because it may be scarce there, respond."

Bennett said Missourians are "cooperating" with the gas conservation program, even though the state has "plenty" of gasoline.

"As evidence I submit that collection of state tax on gasoline sales has dropped 33 1/3 per cent during the past 10 months," he said.

Program Not Disclosed

Progress of these drives was not disclosed, but pro-allied French forces were reported making a

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON
(Major Robert S. Allen on active duty)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—When Wendell Willkie conferred with Stalin in Moscow, the Russian leader criticized British for side-tracking the American lend-lease goods in Scotland and substituting for them inferior British war supplies.

The inside story of this can now be told — a story which Stalin apparently did not know when he talked to Willkie.

Last summer, a shipment of Airacobras was en route to Russia from the United States and the convoy stopped to refuel in the British Isles. At that time, Gen. Eisenhower, preparing for the second front in Africa, asked that these fast fighting planes be given to him instead of being sent on to Russia.

Gen. Eisenhower was so insistent that he finally went to Prime Minister Churchill personally, who finally agreed that the Airacobras be sidetracked for use on the forthcoming African front.

That was why Stalin never got them.

Major Roosevelt

This column threw plenty of harpoons into Jimmy Roosevelt in the old Boston insurance days, so now it takes pleasure in evening up the score. The real story of what Major Roosevelt has been doing in the Marine Corps is gradually leaking out through his comrades. It would have been on the front pages if he were not the president's son.

Jimmy is a member of the Raiders, equivalent to the British commandos, the most dangerous branch of the Marine Corps. As such he landed on Makin island in the mid-Pacific, to wipe out a Jap base.

Going ashore from a submarine in a rubber boat, Roosevelt's party upset seven times on an outer reef before they finally reached the island. Then the Raiders wiped out the Jap garrison, ranged through the island for two days until every Jap was exterminated. During the raid, the Japs sent in two big troops transport planes to retake the island. Roosevelt's men were armed only with light calibre machine guns. But they waited until each plane was close to the ground, then opened up full force and wiped out each plane.

Five of Roosevelt's men were killed, and about 130 Japs. When the job was done, Roosevelt took his men out on rubber boats, finally found their submarines.

Men who have served with Jimmy pay him great tribute, say he has the courage of a real leader, inspires confidence. No one seeing him unshaven for days, looking gaunt and hungry on the battle front would ever recognize him as the son of the president.

Gen. Eisenhower's Joke

Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, leader of the African expedition, has a rich sense of humor as well as the qualities of military leadership. Here is a story he tells on himself.

While in Washington some time ago, a newly commissioned cellophane captain had asked to have a telephone installed, and when it was late, he hit the ceiling. Calling the staff sergeant on another phone, the captain proceeded to give him the bawling out of his life.

Finally a voice at the other end said: "Do you know who you're talking to?"

There was a pause. Finally the captain replied: "Who?"

"This is General Eisenhower," another pause.

"General, do you know who you are talking to?" asked the captain.

"No."

"Thank God for that!" said the captain, who apparently remembered the gag from "Panama Hattie."

Overruling Roosevelt

More and more it looks as if Ferdinand Eberstadt, the Wall Street broker, is becoming the most powerful man in the War Production Board and one of the

Blow Nazi Sub To Surface With Bomb

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Nov. 19.—(AP)—The British naval air force has fought a violent battle against axis submarines in the western Mediterranean in which an RAF plane reported blowing a German submarine to the surface with a bomb, the U-boat being sent to the bottom later by a naval aircraft torpedo.

The U-boat's survivors were picked up.

The Edge of Darkness

By William Woods

Copyright, 1942, NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: All Norway is preparing for revolt against its German conquerors. England will furnish guns. That is the news brought by Sverre Hammer, who escaped a heroic, though disastrous, battle against the Nazis at Stokland. Hammer traveled 15 miles on foot, evading a dozen patrols, to reach Knut Osterholm at the sleeping Norwegian fishing village of Trollness. When Dr. Martin Stensgaard, mayor of Trollness, hears the news, he calls hurriedly Gunnar Brogge to his surgery. "We fight," the doctor bursts out. "It will be dangerous, but at last we fight!"

TROLLNESS SHALL JUDGE

CHAPTER II

"By God, Gunnar, can you see what it means? Slowly the whole coast armed. Rifles, machine guns, grenades. Every man's garden his own fortress. And then, when the day comes... a holla... loose at them in every town in Norway, and down the whole ruffianly gang of them in the fjords."

"Does anybody else know this?" asked Gunnar.

"Not yet." After a moment the doctor added, "Be very careful, but pass the word around. I want some people we can trust to slip through if they can and meet at Osterholm's tonight. He's a real man, that farmer, a real man."

"There will be many details," said Gunnar slowly, thinking, "Ja, Osterholm is a brave man. We need men like him."

"Yes, yes, of course. The matter of contacts with the ships, the organization of a defense committee to take charge. Above all, we must keep an eye out for those who talk too much. And keep the men quiet now. We don't want trouble. Not until we're ready."

The fisherman had picked up his hat to go when there was a soft tap at the door behind the examining table. The doctor wheeled.

"No. I'm busy with a patient."

The tap was repeated. Stensgaard closed his eyes a moment, then went over into the alcove, thrust a hookful of white coats aside, and flung open the door. A pale woman stood there with a scrap of paper in her hand. When she saw Gunnar she started back in embarrassment, but then changed her mind, leaned forward, and whispered something to the doctor.

"Three ore for the postman, my dear? Well, so that's it," Stensgaard smiled, reached into his pocket, and handed her some coins. "There's all of half a kroner there, so look to it I get the change. Now don't bother us. We have a matter of great importance."

"So have I," she whispered, and looked a little proud. "We have a letter from Johann."

He glared at her as if to remind her of Gunnar's presence. "So!"

"He has left Stokholm. He is coming home." She was watching him carefully to see how he would take it.

For a moment he stared at her, mouth agape. He had grown as pale as she. Then, "Very well," he snapped. "I'll see you later," and slowly shut the door.

WHEN the fisherman left, Dr. Stensgaard abruptly stopped smiling. He seated himself at his polished walnut desk across from the door, pursed his lips, and touched the tips of his stubby fingers together in front of him. His brow furrowed. Some minutes passed.

When the pale woman entered, closing the door quietly behind her, a breath of starch and fresh linen came with her into the room.

"Oh, Martin," she said immediately. "I was so worried about you." She leaned back against the wall and brushed a frail hand through her hair that was done up in a wisp bun on the top of her head.

He smiled, a trace of condescension in the downward curve of his lips. "So they paid us a visit. Very well, my dear. But now, you see I

"The captain and a whole body of troops came and searched the house after you left last night. Hulda and I stood on the stairs and didn't know what to do."

have returned, so there is no cause to worry any longer."

"Oh, I see you wore your bearskin." The woman's hands fluttered and picked up the cap. "Was it cold? We were terribly cold on the stairs."

He made no answer. She fussed with her hands, and kept talking so as not to give him time.

"Martin, the soldiers said they were looking for guns, and if they found any, they were going to arrest hostages... all over the village. Something terrible must have happened... she bit her lip, but he remained unmoved... to make them suspect us," she added in a small voice. "Oh, Martin, she went on, "I was so frightened. At least, if Karen were here, it would not be so lonely when you go away nights."

"Karen will be home on Tuesday."

Quickly she came forward. "Really? Did you speak to Osterholm?"

"Yes. He says the weeks up at the saeter have done the girls good. But now that the season is so advanced, he is sending a man up to close the house and drive the cattle home."

"Tuesday?" he said, and touched the tips of his fingers together again. "You are well aware that that was not why I sent for you. Have you the letter with you?"

SHE reached into the bosom of her dress and drew it out, but with such a look of entreaty on her face that he assumed a kinder tone. "Sit down, my dear."

"Before you say anything, Martin, hear me out."

He bent a questioning eye on her and remained silent. She came up to the desk, the letter clasped in her hand. The starched white cuffs on her sleeves were a trifling stain, exposing the fragile wrists.

"Johann addressed it to me. He says he is in Oslo, and coming home. We both knew he would never make a doctor, and if that is the reason you sent him to

Looking Backward

Forty Years Ago

A number of Sedalia merchants have presented the high school cadets with a large and handsomely engraved gold medal. A competitive drill is to be held each month and the cadet who excels in the drill will be permitted to wear the Merchants' medal for one month.

The sale being conducted today at the home of Mrs. E. A. Petty, two miles southeast of the city, is well attended, many going out from the city in vehicles provided for the occasion. Cols. R. L. Harri-man and Charles J. Hieronymus are the auctioneers.

The Elks' social session was inaugurated last night by the Sedalia lodge giving a "stag" entertainment at their lodge rooms in the Smith and Cotton building on Ohio street. The vocal music was furnished by Brown Harris, H. V. Liest, John and Charles Menefee and S. Fletcher. Dr. W. J. Ferguson presided, and there was "something doing" all the time.

John Colaflower, the contractor, had his buggy partially demolished in a runaway accident in East Sedalia yesterday.

Top Jack Sells For $1,000

In a dissolution of partnership sale of jacks and jennets held at the Missouri State Fair grounds Wednesday by L. M. Monsees and son, Kalo, and Mergen brothers, the latter of Florence, Mo., 52 head of the registered animals offered brought approximately $10,000.

The sale attracted an unusually large crowd of bidders and the auctioneers, Ray G. Johnson, Belton, Chas. Ivern, Marshall, and W. E. Morton, Kansas City, secretary of the Jacks and Jennets Register, kept bidding at a lively pace.

The top price paid for any of the choice jacks was for Montetou Chief 34210 which brought $1,000 and was purchased by a Stover bidder.

This jack was the grand champion in the 1942 Missouri State Fair.

Kenny Method Used On Knee

Found To Reduce Disabilities From Joint Injuries

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—(P)—An army surgeon, in the first reported instance of the application of the Kenny treatment for infantile paralysis to any other condition, said today that it greatly reduces disabilities from knee injuries.

The famous method developed by Miss Elizabeth Kenny, Australian nurse, for acute poliomyelitis can eliminate many of the disabilities which sometimes follow such injuries as fractures and strains involving the knee joint's internal structures, the physician said.

Major Vernon L. Hart of Camp Cooke, Calif., making this report in the journal of the American Medical Association, said he had been impressed with the "unusually high percentage of normal knees following this system of treatment and the extremely small number of patients with recurrence of disability."

Following a knee joint injury, he said, there is muscle spasm and lack of muscle coordination such as Miss Kenny recognizes and treats in acute poliomyelitis.

No Splints Or Casts
And in any bone or joint injury, he continued, "the importance of the application of the Kenny principles" can be shown.

Miss Kenny, who now is in this country, applies hot, moist packs to the paralyzed leg or arm and manipulates the affected part with certain passive exercises, instead of using splints or plaster casts to keep the part still.

The Kenny program of treatment "diminishes the original period of disability, eliminates the use of all plastic splints and other forms of mechanical appliances, reduces recurrent disability and greatly reduces the necessity for surgical correction of knee joint disability as compared with other methods of treatment that I have used," Major Hart concluded.

Lawrence A. Brill, former Sedalian, who has recently been living in Albuquerque, N. M., is now in the army, stationed at Fort Bliss, near El Paso, Tex. He enlisted on October 10, was sent to the replacement center, where he has since been attached to the headquarters company. He formerly held a commission in the army reserve, but had resigned that before the war was declared. Mrs. Brill has taken a position, for the duration, as an auditor at the air base in Albuquerque. She resides with her daughter, Larry Lou and her mother, Mrs. Akins, in Albuquerque.

Private Brill, son of Mrs. Walter J. Brill, 316 East Tenth street, is a stockholder in the Sedalia Democrat company and former advertising manager.

Ralph Meyer (top) who is in the marines, and his brother, George H. Meyer, who enlisted in the navy October 19, and is at the Great Lakes Naval Station.

Prior to enlistment in the navy he attended the National School of Aeronautics in Kansas City, was graduated, and worked at the North American Bomber plant. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Meyer, 810 N. Quincy avenue.

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Vaught, route 3, Sedalia, that their son, Pvt. William E. Vaught, is now stationed in Miami Beach, Fla., with the U. S. Air Corps.

Pfc. Nathan Whitmore, who has been stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, and has just returned from two months of training maneuvers in Tennessee on a week's furlough and is visiting his wife who is a member of the Smithton school faculty. Following his furlough Pfc. Whitmore will be transferred to California for more training.

Great Industrial Developments In Fighting French Territory

Continued from page one. That in itself would have created a grave handicap and prevented the strategic development which I shall describe.

Chad, which lies against Italian Libya, is the military key to this part of Africa.

Foresaw Hitler's Plan

Fighting French leaders foresaw Hitler's plan to use North Africa to gain domination of the Mediterranean and, right after the fall of France, moved to secure control of Chad.

This key position was under the powerful governorship of General Ebou, a huge Negro who was one of the most capable administrators in the empire. He elected to stand with the Fighting French and as a result all French Equatorial Africa joined the allies.

This was done before any effort was made to raise a Fighting French army for this region, which lies at the rear of the axis battlefront. Since then an army and military resources have been developed and we shall hear much more of them before this conflict is finished.

French Equatorial Africa now provides a span for an allied bridge right across Africa.

During the past two years the Fighting French and the other allies have joined hands in pioneering an almost incredible chain of developments from the Atlantic coast, clear across Africa to the Middle East.

Have Communication Lines

The allies have performed the historic feat of a complete line of air and water communication through the heart of this no-man's land. It is a magnificent pioneering feat and it is good to be able to report that American men have played a prominent part, risking their lives among bottomless morasses of jungles and daring terrible diseases which poison Equatorial Africa's air.

Thus, day and night, there stream across Africa supplies and personnel needed on allied fronts from North Africa clear to far-off China. Here we follow one of the difficult but straight and narrow paths to victory.

That's not the whole story, however. There have been great industrial developments both in Fighting French territory and in other allied countries.

Ancient and broken-down caravan towns have been modernized and become throbbing centers of allied efficiency. Places like Brazzaville, which were just collections of native huts, have been set on the road to progress and become international cities in which French, Americans, British, Belgians, Poles and what-not brush shoulders in the public square.

Laying Out Store

Along with manufacturing, there has been a notable increase in cattle raising and agriculture. In short, this vast belt is a mill which is grinding grist for the allies and laying up stores for future demands.

Naturally, all this spells enlightenment and progress, not only commercial but social, for this hitherto largely undeveloped part of the world. Believe me, civilization has pulled on its seven-league boots to make this crossing of jungles and deserts.

They say it's an ill wind that blows nobody good, and on that basis it's true that the Hitlerian horror, which has brought tragedy to most of mankind, is lifting the black head of primitive Africa.

Already advancement has been achieved which might otherwise have required a generation. Not all the story can be told now, but I hope to report something further in a subsequent article.

Insurance Men's Dinner Friday Night

The Life Underwriters Association will have a dinner Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Sedalia Country club. This will be a tri-city meeting, with Columbia, Jefferson City and Sedalia represented.

Special guests will be Frank Vesser, of St. Louis, state president of the association and Edward L. Scheufler, Jefferson City, who is the state superintendent of the insurance department.

Virgil Ragar is the president of the local association.

'Deacon' McGary Bound Over To Criminal Court

Luther "Deacon" McGary, waived his preliminary hearing before Judge C. W. Society and Clubs

The doors of the new U. S. Officers club at Hotel Bothwell were opened Wednesday afternoon with one hundred women attending a tea given by the Sedalia branch of the American Association of University Women in honor of the wives and mothers of officers. The tea officially opened the club and served as a means for the wives of officers at the army air base to become acquainted with each other as well as with townspeople.

There will be an officers' dance next Wednesday night.

In the receiving line at the tea were Mrs. John C. McLaughlin, of Sedalia, wife of Lieut.-Col. McLaughlin, now serving overseas; Mrs. Nelson Morris, wife of Major Morris; Mrs. Edmund T. Gorman, wife of Major Gorman and Mrs. Frederick Funston, wife of Captain Funston, all of the army air base, and Miss Ida Cruzan, A.A.U.W. president.

Mrs. Charles D. Osborne, Mrs. Vivian D. Van Dyne, Mrs. Charles A. Jenkins and Mrs. Grant Crawford poured at the tea table which was attractively set in silver service with a circle of six ivory candles surrounding a large bowl of Talamas roses and pink pom-pom chrysanthemums.

A vase of vari-colored chrysanthemums was placed on a stand by the registration table on the mezzanine where the Officers' club membership cards were distributed. Mrs. R. M. Ryckman and Mrs. Eugene Helman were in charge of registrations.

Music throughout the tea was by Mrs. John M. Rodeman and Mrs. Ralph Carrel, violinists, and Mrs. Raymond Peterson, pianist. Mrs. E. M. Stafford, Jr., Mrs. George Yeaman, Miss Laura Johns and Miss Mary Vance formed the committee on arrangements for the tea. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Leon H. Archias, Jr., Mrs. Frank Faxon, Mrs. Elliott Ginsberg, Mrs. George Lockett and Miss Virginia Wilkerson.

The clubroom of the officers' quarters, which was formerly known as the Peacock room, has been completely remodeled and the decor is of knotty pine. A pine-paneled bar alcove extends across the north end and a large replica of the wing and propeller insignia of the air corps hangs over the archway.

Two large American flags grace the sidewalls. The room is handsomely furnished as a lounge.

The newly redecorated adjoining the Ambassador ballroom is done in pastel shades, the flesh tint paint of the walls contrasting with a dusty green ceiling and the coral window bay. Gold damask draperies at the windows add beauty to the room, and gold is also the color used in the curtains on the French doors leading from the mezzanine.

Coral celanese curtains form the background for the white trellised niches of the expansive north wall.

Portable partitions have been built to convert the Ambassador room into whatever size is required for various entertainment programs at the club.

The Officers' club is sponsored by the Sedalia A.A.U.W. group, through the courtesy of H. W. McCall, Sweet Hotels, general manager, and Al Tracy, Bothwell hotel manager. Mrs. Philip McLaughlin, Mrs. Abe Rosenthal and Miss Virginia Wilkerson compose the general A.A.U.W. Officers' club committee.

Mrs. Henry Salveter, her daughter, Charlotte, and her mother, Mrs. George Himmelhaber, 1212 South Barrett avenue, have returned from a visit of several days in Pekin, Ill., where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Himmelhaber, Jr.

They were accompanied to Illinois by Mrs. John M. Rodeman, 1015 South Barrett avenue, who went to Peoria where she visited Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Petefish and daughter, Joanne. Mrs. Petefish is the former Miss Mildred Blount of Sedalia.

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Mitchell, 810 South Barrett avenue, their daughter, Mrs. Leon H. Archias, Jr., 508 South Park avenue, and Mrs. Ralph Carrel and daughter, Cay, 1325 South Carr avenue, spent the last weekend in Wichita, Kas.

Dr. and Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Archias visited their son and brother, John Mitchell, Mrs. Mitchell and their daughter, Jo Ann, while Mrs. Carrel and daughter were guests of Mrs. Carrel's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sandfort and family.

A surprise dinner, given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James T.

Good Program At PTA Meeting

Mrs. H. U. Campbell, guest speaker at Broadway P. T. A. Wednesday afternoon, used as her subject "A Child's Complete Education," bringing out all the important parts that combine to give a complete education. She stressed health as one of the most important things parents can give their children. The lack of it is a serious handicap in life. Next was Faith, Mrs. Campbell is a delightful speaker and her audience was very appreciative.

Mrs. W. O. Stanley, third president of Broadway Parent Teacher association, gave the devotional, quoting the fifth commandment and basing her talk on honor to both parents and children, saying God alone can save our modern families from the sins which attack them.

Forrest Drake, school principal, announced a Thanksgiving candle lighting service to be given Wednesday, November 25, at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, at the school and urged all parents to attend as the children have worked hard to make this program a success. He called attention to the Junior Red Cross display in the hall, which was very outstanding.

Room awards went to rooms taught by Miss Frances Meyers and Miss Marian Keens.

The president, Mrs. Lloyd Kenton, presided.

The Parents Education class, Mrs. R. M. Bates, chairman, will meet Tuesday, November 24 at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Bates' topic will be "How the United States Came About." Mrs. A. L. Walter will have an open discussion on Home-making.

Mrs. C. N. Aven, student aid chairman made an appeal for clothing to be used in the Mutual Aid room which will be conducted again this year.

E. H. Milton Convalescing After Recent Operation
E. H. Milton, retired business man of Sedalia, who recently underwent an operation at the Jewish hospital, St. Louis, is getting along nicely, although still a patient at the hospital. Mrs. Milton is in St. Louis with him.

charged, and Ward's would not be free to retain a competent worker who had resigned from the union."

The labor board order was issued after hearings had been held involving some 6,800 employes and the CIO United Mail Order, Warehouse and United Retail Em-ployes Union.

Mr. Roosevelt noted in his let-ter to Avery that the WLB order was handed down according to a national agreement between labor and management that "there shall be no strikes or lock-outs for the duration of the war, and that all labor disputes shall be settled by peaceful means."

Release Davis Letter

Along with Mr. Roosevelt's let-ter, the White House released another written by WLB Chair-man William H. Davis to the chief executive in which Davis recommended that Mr. Roosevelt take "such action as you deem ap-propriate in accordance with your war powers."

Rejection of the board's order, Davis said, endangered the suc-cessful operation of the no-strike agreement between labor and management.

Davis said WLB, at a meeting yesterday, held unanimously that Avery, in a letter rejecting the order, had offered no argument or proof to justify modification of the order.

The company had contended that if the board's order was en-forced the pattern would be es-tablished for all unions in all in-dustry to obtain a form of closed shop and check-off simply by appealing to WLB.

It voiced no opposition to vol-untary arbitration of disputes with its workers but said that the management, through com-pulsory arbitration, should not have to abandon its responsibility and to surrender to outside arbitrators the final decision on all matters the union might wish to treat as grievances.

Montgomery Ward also took the position that a year's guarantee of wages and working conditions was unsound in these uncertain times.

Masonic Meeting In

Observers here said the advance from Lake Chad might use as a striking base the Kufra oasis, which is 500 miles south of Ben-ghazi and which the Fighting French seized from an Italian gar-ri-son 18 months ago.

Forces in the Chad region were reported here to be of considerable number, well equipped, and sup-ported by South African and RAF squadrons.

repulsed," the communiqué said. It said German artillery and air attacks were directed against Rus-sian troop concentrations in that area where the Nazi thrust to-ward the passes of the Caucasus has been turned back.

"In Stalingrad, shock troops are fighting," said the communiqué in its only reference to that long-contested salient on the Volga.

"On the Don front, Rumanian troops warded off several attacks in the course of which the Ru-manian air force inflicted con-siderable losses on the enemy."

The Don battle was more than just a continuation of the months of maneuvering for position there, the communiqué emphasized. "New fighting is going on there," it declared.

"Attacks repeatedly made by the enemy in the night on Rya-bach (Fisher) peninsula were repulsed," the communiqué said. Of the Volkhov river front south of Leningrad it reported.

"In heavy defensive fighting of the past days an Alpine division from Berchtesgaden, employed at Volkhov, particularly excelled." Hitler's headquarters made no secret, however, that the Russians had the initiative, and were strik-ing in force.

"In this sector," the commu-niqué said, "the enemy attacked, employing nine infantry battal-ions supported by tanks, strong artillery and battle planes, against a position defended by troops of various German regiments."

"After four days of incessant, ferocious, man-to-man fighting in mixed trench positions, all enemy attacks collapsed."

Leo Durocher Is
Re-named Manager

BROOKLYN, Nov. 1.—(P)—Leo Durocher, manager of the Brook-lyn Dodgers for the last four years, today was re-named to that position for 1943 by President Branch Rickey.

Rickey said Durocher was sign-ed to a one-year player contract, which probably means that Leo will return to active duty after serving as a bench manager dur-ing 1942. The player contract is similar to those signed by the St. Louis managers when Rickey was vice president of the Cardin-als and is said to permit a club to release a manager during the sea-son without paying his salary for the remainder of the year.

Terms were not announced. Durocher's contract in 1942 called for $23,500 but it is believed it included bonus provisions which may have netted him close to $30,000.

Inducements For Milk Production

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—(P)—

Special inducements to stimulate milk production may be offered dairymen if no other means is found of averting a threatened shortage.

Government food agencies, faced with the possible need of ra-tioning principal dairy products because of rising war demands, debated proposals to offer such incentives as federal subsidies or higher prices.

The latter method would in-volve raising the price ceilings established by the Office of Price Administration at President Roosevelt's direction early in October.

Subsidies, on the other hand, would require between $200,000,000 and $300,000,000 a year in federal funds. This estimate was made by dairy officials of the agriculture department who asked that they not be quoted.

Regardless of whether special inducements are offered, the pro-duction of milk and dairy prod-ucts in 1943 is expected by Sec-retary of Agriculture Wickard to fall short of requirements of the armed forces, the lend-lease pro-gram, and civilians.

The question of whether special inducements should be offered may be submitted finally to eco-nomic stabilization director James F. Byrnes for settlement.

Stock Market
Trends Moderate

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Stocks generally were grounded in today's market despite continuance of heartening war news from virtually all sectors.

While modest advances were scored by selected issues at the start, there were subsequent let-downs here and there and trends near the close were moderately mixed.

Mild encouragement was found in the lack of insistent offerings, deal-ings being even more sluggish than in yesterday's session. Transfers for the full proceedings were around 500,000 shares.

There was further discussion as to just how much effect tax selling was having as a recovery handicap. Brokers reported this sort of liquida-tion was relatively light at the mo-ment but potential buyers inclined to stand aside on the theory this influ-ence might become more potent in coming weeks.

Isolation Of Hitler By High Germans

his steady Nazification of the army high command.

Some members of the junta were said to be "deliberately pro-voking Hitler's ire so as to be dismissed or relegated from places of responsibility in order to be able to blame him directly for the disastrous last winter in Russia."

They were said also to hold him responsible for the defeat of Mar-shal Erwin Rommel in Africa on the ground that it might have been averted had he followed different tactics in southeastern Russia and taken early steps to reinforce the African forces with soldiers from the eastern front.

Speech Strengthened Junta

Hitler's speech of November 8 indicating that he planned an even more thoroughgoing Nazification of the army and further infiltra-tion of SS men into the armed forces was said to have materi-ally strengthened the hand of the junta among old-line army officers.

In that speech the possibility of defeat seemed to weigh heavily upon the fuhrer's mind, for he said he would never flee the country if things went wrong, and he declared that, unlike the Kaiser, he would never give up.

Allied victories in North Africa, continued bombings of Germany by growing allied air power and the generally low morale of the country were said to be accepted by the junta as signs of doom for Germany.

The informant said the military group was betting on these alter-natives:

1. In case of a stalemate or peace they will be able to eliminate Hitler with allied blessings and perhaps estab-lish another government, possibly monarchistic.

2. In case of outright Ger-man defeat they will be in a position by isolation of Hitler to ask the allies to accept the junker class as the nucleus of a new government and would seek to convince the United States and Britain that they should be left with suf-ficient military strength to constitute a "German watch-dog against Russia."

Mentioned Before

The principal figures men-tioned in the informant's outline of the junta's activities have been mentioned many times in previous reports of dissension in the ranks of the German high command.

Von Brauchitsch, dismissed nearly a year ago, since has been reported called back by Hitler for consultation in various matters but never has been restored fully to his former position.

Von Bock was reported to have been removed from his command several weeks ago. Berlin has specifically denied reports that he had been arrested.

Von Manstein, conqueror of Sevastopol, has been mentioned in German announcements as lead-ing troops on the Volga front, either as successor to Von Bock or as a local commander there.

Von Rundstedt Overseer

Gen. Halder, chief of staff of the German army, was reported to have been removed at the same time as Von Bock and replaced by Gen. Alfred Jodl, who has been a special military adviser to Hitler.

Blaskowitz, a German hero of the Polish campaign, was reported several months ago living in re-tirement in Paris or northern France where he had withdrawn after disagreeing with Hitler.

Plight Of Rommel In A Pincers Move Precarious

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

Crunching jaws of the allied nutcracker attack in Africa appear to have placed the German Marshal Rommel in a truly unenviable plight.

General Alexander, British commander of the eastern jaw of the pincers, says Rommel's fate is sealed unless he has heavily reinforced.

There is no indication yet that he has received the men, tanks or planes he so urgently needs. Whether he elects to meet his fate in a last stand at the El Agheila narrows or attempts escape by sea evacuation, Alexander predicts extermination of the axis army in Egypt as a soon to be accomplished fact.

As he spoke, the position reached by his own advance guard went far to confirm his judgment of the plight of his rival, whichever course he follows. British imperial forces, sheltered by allied air power in unchallenged control of the skies, were within 70 miles of Bengasi.

That is no more than a day's stride. The bold headland of the Libyan "hump" is already rounded from the east; the march southward down the eastern shore of the gulf of Sirte begun.

The waters of that wide and deep indentation in the African coastline afford Rommel's army its only route for sea escape. Yet they are already under close allied air fire from three directions, east, west and north.

Could Operate Criss-Cross
Allied bombers from bases on the Libyan hump to the east, from General Eisenhower's command in Algeria or Tunis to the west and from Britain's indomitable fortress, Malta, to the north could weave an over-lapping criss-cross pattern against an axis sea flight. No part of the waters of the gulf of Sirte or of its western extension to the Tunisian coastline would be out of reach of any of them.

It is roughly 600 air miles from the indicated British advance positions on the Libyan hump across the mouth of the gulf to Cape Bon, its western portal in Tunisia. It is less than 500 to Tripoli and hardly 300 to El Agheila. There is deadly menace in that for Rommel unless Nazi air power can quickly challenge allied control of the skies in central North Africa and the central Mediterranean.

Even more menacing now is brave Malta. A circle struck from Malta with a 300 mile radius, an hour's jaunt for heavy bombers, would span from the southern tip of Sardinia in the northwest to El Agheila in the southeast. It would cover all Tunisia except its extreme southwestern deserts, and virtually all of western Tripolitania including Tripoli to a depth of 100 miles inland from the Mediterranean coast. Malta seems destined to wreak terrible vengeance for its thousand nights and days of axis bombing.

Westward, the immediate position of Eisenhower's Anglo-American forces is more obscure. From bases in East Algeria or in northwestern Tunisia, however, his bombers within a 300 mile radius could cover all of Sardinia to the north, all of Tunisia and the western part of the gulf of Sirte and all of northwestern Tripolitania to well eastward of Tripoli.

Mark that 300-mile radius overlapping design on any map and the grim and hourly increasing air jeopardy in which the fleeing axis army in Africa sticks up like a sore thumb. It is so great that reports of frantic axis efforts to muster a thousand planes in Sicily are wholly credible.

Laval Fascist Dictator For Vichy France

Full Powers Are Vested In Him
By Marshal Petain

LONDON, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Pierre Laval, who has thrown in his chips for a German victory, was made fascist dictator of Vichy France and designated successor to Marshal Philippe Petain Wednesday night. Observers predicted a new terror reign and a desperate Laval effort to swing France militarily into the axis fold.

The 86-year-old Marshal Petain named Laval his heir presumptive to replace Admiral Jean Darlan who went over to the allied standard in French North Africa, and also gave Laval full powers to write his own laws and decrees in a nation completely occupied by axis armies.

Significantly the vesting of full powers in the wily Laval came after the cabinet had heard a report from Rear Admiral Rene Platon, a secretary of state in the foreign ministry, on the latter's trip to Tunisia.

Admiral Platon presumably outlined the prospects of rallying French Tunisians to the axis camp at a time when American and British troops are fighting their way into that protectorate from occupied French Algeria to the west. German and Italian troops already hold the Bizerte-Tunis area apparently in cooperation with pro-axis Vichy elements stationed in the Tunisian French protectorate.

An official Vichy announcement by old Marshal Petain said he was giving full powers to Laval "to enable him to speedily deal at any hour and in all places with the difficulties through which France is passing," and he declared he appreciated "the patriotism and foresight of Laval in all circumstances."

Power For Decrees

Still using the royal "we" in referring to himself, Petain said: "We, Marshal of France and chief of state by virtue of the constitutional law of July 10, 1940, decree that the head of government (Laval), outside of constitutional laws, has the power on his simple signature alone to make laws and issue decrees."

Petain cancelled a previous constitutional article that had appointed Admiral Darlan as his successor. The Marshal's new decree said that "in case of permanent incapacity (Petain's) the cabinet shall within a month appoint a chief of state by a majority vote."

"At the same time," the decree continued, "it shall define and fix the respective powers and attributions of the chief of state and head of government whose functions shall be separate."

Two Resign Cabinet Posts

Immediate repercussions from these developments were seen tonight in a Vichy report that Vice-Admiral G. A. J. P. Auphan, secretary of state for the navy, and Robert Gibart, secretary of state for communications, had resigned their cabinet posts.

Admiral Jean Marie Abrial, former governor-general of Algeria, replaced Admiral Auphan, and Jean Bichelonne combined Gilgrat's post with his present one of secretary of state for industrial production—a production, incidentally, geared to Germany's war needs.

These men doubtless resigned in protest against Laval's new powers. They probably knew they were going to be fired anyway, since Admiral Auphan is known to be a supporter of Darlan. In any event it was considered significant that Admiral Abrial was given Auphan's job.

He undoubtedly is slated to use what prestige he retains in Algeria for the benefit of the axis. There also remains the question of the Toulon fleet. Admiral Darlan in his appeals has asked it to go over to the allied side, but it still rides at anchor within gunshot of surrounding axis occupation armies.

The pro-axis policy of Laval now takes a new and more powerful turn, but just what form it will assume remained unclear tonight. There have been reliable reports that Laval was negotiating a peace with the axis to replace the armistice, perhaps as a forerunner of trying to place France formally at war with the allies.

These reported terms would give Germany Alsace and Lorraine, provinces they already have taken over, and would place the Vichy fleet alongside the axis in an attempt to regain the French empire.

Unless Laval eventually can cleverly propagandize the helpless French people it is thought unlikely that his axis collaboration would take the extreme form of going formally to war against the allies. The constitution also provides that Marshal Petain as chief of state himself does not have power to declare war without "the previous assent of the legislative assemblies."

Those assemblies are yet to be created under the constitution which replaced the third republic on July 10, 1940. Moreover, the constitution under which Petain assumed his powers never has been ratified.

Plans Formed To "Share-The-Meat" By The Consumer

Pledges Be Asked For Limit Of Two And Half Pounds Each Person

Every patriotic Pettis County should be checking his own meat consumption during the next week in order to know whether he is staying within his fair share of 2½ pounds. Those who actually know how much meat they are consuming at the present time will be more able to make their pledge to stay within their bounds. If they are not up to the 2½ pound limit, they will make their pledge to not exceed that. The nutrition committee of the Civilian Defense Council met Monday to make plans for handling the "Share-The-Meat" campaign in Pettis County. The meat leaders of each rural neighborhood are being asked to reach in some way every family within their neighborhood in an effort to have them pledge themselves to 2½ pounds as a maximum for each week of the year.

Includes Various Meats

For the average rural person, this would mean approximately one 200 pound hog before it was slaughtered. Of course, that amount should not all be in pork, but should have included pork, beef, veal, lamb, and mutton for the entire year. Poultry, fish, and organs are not counted in the 2½ pounds. These may be used freely in excess of the 2½ pounds. This 2½ pounds means every active adult. The boys and girls between the ages of 6 and 12 should only use 1½ pounds per week. For each child under six years, the maximum is ¾ pounds per week. The "Share-The-Meat" campaign is figured with bone in and fat on. It is based on an equal distribution of last year's meat supply plus a 10 per cent increase. This program is not meat rationing. It is an effort to distribute freely and justly the total amount of meat through a voluntary effort. If those who could afford to buy and who had the opportunity of shopping early did not share with other civilians, some people would be left without their fair share of 2½ pounds. For some people this will mean more and for others it will mean less than they have been using. How does your family measure up?

Pettis County rural people have met their challenge in producing more. They will meet their challenge in sharing that production.

Conserving Heat For Colder Days

Valuable heat in homes can be conserved this winter if a careful check of the house is made to find causes of lost heat says M. M. Jones of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture. One cause of lost heat is the leakage of air around windows and doors. Weather-stripping or tightly-fitted storm doors and windows will help curtail this loss. Closing the openings between wall studs the cellar to the attic will save heat and eliminate a dangerous fire hazard. Such openings are virtually chimneys for any fire starting in the basement.

Fuel savings can be made and comfort improved by insulation over ceilings and attic walls. The same insulation that protects from cold in winter aids in keeping the house cool in summer. If exterior doors opening directly into frequently occupied rooms can be moved so as to open into entries or halls, much of the heat in these rooms will be saved.

Stoves utilize fuel more efficiently than fireplaces do. Sometimes fireplaces are made with a circulating system which sends more of the heat into the room instead of up the chimney. The heat of the kitchen range can be utilized in the room above by providing a grating in the ceiling.

Foods For Health And Added Vigor

Bread and cereal made from whole grains will have more of the essential food elements—the minerals and vitamins—than if made from grain after it is milled. Points out the extension nutritionists of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture. The minerals and vitamins, especially iron, vitamin B, and vitamin G, are found mostly in the outer coats of the grain and in the germ—the very parts that are removed in the milling of white flour.

Person who eat whole wheat or dark bread and whole-grain cereals are sure of getting a lot of minerals and vitamins that they would not get from white bread—even if they ate four to five slices at a meal. It is especially important that whole-grain breads and cereals be included if the remainder of the diet is lacking in meat, milk, eggs, fruits, and vegetables. The minerals and vitamins in whole-wheat bread have much to do with normal growth, healthy nerves, good appetite and digestion, and a clear skin.

Milk and whole-grain cereals or whole-grain bread supplement each other so effectively that they may well be used as a basis upon which to build meals. Add to these some fruit or vegetable, and practically all the food elements actually needed for health and growth are provided. For this reason, whole-wheat bread and milk, with fruit or a green salad makes an excellent supper or luncheon.

Time To Fix Up Machinery

New Equipment Limited And Labor Getting Scarcer

Too little and too late must not be said of farm machinery repair work this year urges M. M. Jones of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture. New equipment is limited and rationed and labor is scarce. These two—machinery and labor—are two chief factors in food production. We usually think of winter as being the slack time on the farm and the best time for repairing and conditioning machinery. Although there will be little or no slack time on most farms this winter, machinery must be repaired just the same. It is not too early to get started now.

Tractors, combines, binders, plows, drills, mowers and smaller machines as well should be inspected carefully and thoroughly. All worn or broken parts should be replaced. If the machines were not cleaned and repaired for storage when last used, that matter should be attended to at once. Working parts subject to rust should be cleaned and oiled or greased. Cleaning and painting will be in order for some equipment, and all should be placed in machine sheds or otherwise stored if possible.

Repair parts for some machines are not available on short notice, and time is required for ordering them if the dealer does not have them in stock. There is a shortage in dealers' mechanics, many of them having gone to the armed forces or to the war industries. Dealers therefore need more time to repair and overhaul the machines entrusted to them. Dealers in some sections may not be able to take care of all repair work asked of them, and farmers will need to do more of this kind of work themselves, particularly the easier jobs. Getting machines in the best possible condition and keeping them that way is not only good business but it also patriotic.

Rural Life Problems

Are you one who wonders what to do with persimmons to prevent their going to waste? If you are, try making some into persimmon leather for use as a substitute for raisins or citron in fruit cakes, puddings and cookies. To make this, spread a thin layer of persimmon pulp on waxed paper or a large platter. Dry in the sun or on the stove as drying any other fruit. Remove the seeds. Add another layer of pulp and repeat until the leather is of a thickness to handle easily, then it may be diced or minced for use.

Persimmons may also be preserved to serve or use in place of dates, which they will resemble in both appearance and flavor. Pack whole ripe persimmons into a jar in alternate layers with sugar starting with a thin layer of sugar in the bottom of the jar. Press the upper fruit down under the syrup. Seal and store until used.

Recipes for persimmon bread, muffins, cake, whip, ice cream, pudding, salad, butter, marmalade and jelly are available at the County Extension Office.

Advise Saving Of Sugar For Meats

Meat slaughtering time is here or at least near. Since no provision for extra sugar for meat curing has been made, those who butcher need to be saving now from their regular supply to use in curing meat.

T. A. Ewing, livestock meats specialist of the Extension Service says molasses or sorghum can be used in meat curing, but not as successfully. Since 3 pounds of sugar is needed for each 100 pounds of pork, plans should be made now for saving back enough sugar to cure the family pork supply.

Hogs Need Warm Drinking Water In Winter Time

Warm drinking water for hogs in winter time is just as essential as a good ration says T. A. Ewing of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture. Springs usually provide water that is suitable, except in zero weather.

Water pumped from a well is good but any left in the trough soon freezes. If an automatic waterer is not available, hogs should be watered at least three times a day. Water not far from the feed and shelter is important, and the more hours of the day it is available the better the gains will be.

Next Week In The Kitchen

Do Not Waste Meat

Meat is a good food and practically everyone likes it. At the present time there is such a demand for beef and pork that the government has found it necessary to curtail the amount of beef and pork meat packers can sell for civilian use to about three-fourths of what they sold in the same month in 1940. It takes time and labor to produce meat. When it is produced, every precaution should be made to make the best of it.

Cook the piece of meat according to the cut and fatness, and always use a low to moderate temperature. Use a dry heat for tender well-fatted cuts of meat and moist heat for the less tender cuts. That is, broil, pan broil, or roast the tender well-fatted cuts; and braise, stew or cook the less tender ones in water. If meat is cooked at a high temperature or over-cooked, part of it is wasted. Two 12½ pound beef roast cuts from opposite side of an animal were roasted to the same degree of doneness. One was cooked at a temperature of 450 degrees or in a hot oven; the other at a temperature of 300 degrees or a slow to moderate oven. The roast cooked at the high temperature had lost 4 pounds, while the roast cooked at the low temperature had lost only 1½ pounds in cooking. Cooking at a low temperature saves meat.

When the roast cooked at the low temperature was sliced, the slices of meat were uniform in color and doneness, while the slices from the roast cooked at the high temperature varied from the well done eat the outside to almost rare at the center. The drippings from the slowly cooked roast were clear, while the drippings from the rapidly cooked roast were dark, almost too burned for use.

It takes a longer time to cook at a low temperature, but less fuel is required than when a high temperature is used. Another reason for using a low rather than a high temperature for cooking meat is that it does not need to be watched and it does not spatter or darken the stove.

Fruit Juices

The fruit juice put up last summer can be used in many ways during the winter months. A combination of fruit juices makes a good punch to use as an appetizer at the beginning of a dinner or to use in refreshments. In combining fruit juices, have at least one tart fruit juice with other mild flavored juices. One needs to be careful in combining colors as well as flavors. For example, orange and grape juices will give a muddy appearance instead of a bright clear color. A good combination for winter months is equal parts of grape juice, apple cider and carbonated water.

Use a fruit juice or combination of fruit juices with egg, whipped cream, marshmallows, bananas or gelatin and freeze in a mechanical refrigerator or ice cream freezer for a sherbet, dessert or an ice, to accompany the main course.

Other suggestions for the use of fruit juices are: fruit juice eggnog, fruit juice with gelatin for desserts or salads, and fruit juice in tapioca cream and puddings.

Good Coffee

Coffee is scarce and nearly every one wants coffee. Unless it is vacuum packed and sealed it will lose approximately 70 per cent of its flavor in 10 days' time. If it is vacuum packed and sealed it will keep as it is until this seal is broken and it comes in contact with air. It loses flavor and develops a stale taste as soon as it has been roasted—changes take place more rapidly if it is ground than if it is left whole.

To make good coffee one needs first, fresh coffee, and second a clean coffee maker. There is about an ounce of free oil in a pound of coffee and part of this collects on the inside of the coffee maker and unless it is carefully washed away it will flavor the coffee. It is difficult to clean the small stem of a percolator or its spout. The best coffee pot is made of pottery, enamel, or glass as a silver, aluminum, or other metal gives some flavor to coffee.

Temperature is an important factor in good coffee. Never let coffee boil. It should be brewed—that is, kept just below the boiling point, whether it is made in a dripulator, percolator, or a regular coffee pot. Coffee should be served very hot or very cold. If it is to be held over for some time and served hot, keep it hot throughout the period as it does not "warm over" well.

A speck of salt adds to the flavor of coffee and a bit of egg white will filter out any solid particles and give a clear color. A good cup of coffee is one that is freshly made, it has aroma, clear color, a true coffee flavor, and no left-over taste of staleness.

Eggs

Eggs are always important in the diet and more so now that many people will be eating less meat.

Eggs are rated as a "protective" food because they are a good source of important minerals and vitamins. In the winter months one usually eats less dark green vegetables than in the summer. Dark green vegetables are an excellent source of iron and vitamin A. Hence, eggs become more important in our winter diets since they also are an excellent source of iron and vitamin A, which are necessary for red blood and help prevent anemia, and various types of infection.

Every member of the family should have an egg a day if possible. If this is not possible, children should have the egg a day

Keeping Of Clothes In Repair Vital

Darning And Patching Urged For Garments

Keeping clothing mended and in good repair is more important now than it ever has been. Patching is usually done on cotton garments that must be laundered often, while darning is most often used to mend small holes or to reinforce a worn place. A darn is not a very practical method of mending a large hole as it takes so long to do it nicely.

The three most used patches are the hemmed, the overhand, and the darned-in patch. The hemmed patch is used if a strong durable patch is needed and the garment will be washed frequently. The overhand patch is used on garments where there is little strain or wear, and it is particularly important that the patch be inconspicuous. Regardless of which patch is being used, the worn parts around the hole are trimmed back even with a thread. The patch should be cut in such a way that any design in the material may be matched perfectly.

Mend Small Holes

Small holes, particularly in woolen materials, should be mended by darning the patch in to the hole. The patch is cut exactly the same size as the hole and is basted to a piece of net or other light weight material and fitted into the hole. It should be darned into the hole by small stitches alternately over and under the edge of the hole.

The appearance of any patch or darn will be improved if a fine needle is used. Ravelings of the garment itself can be used to darn if they are available. If not, matching sewing or darning cotton may be used. Make small, even stitches in line or parallel to the warp and filling threads. If stitches are drawn down smoothly, but not tightly the mend will look better. Tight stitches may cause puckers.—Freida M. Bennett, University of Missouri College of Agriculture.

and adults 3-5 eggs a week for maximum nutrition.

The secret of cooking eggs is to use moderate even heat. Cooked to this way, eggs will be tender when they are done. Eggs cooked at too high a temperature become tough and leathery.

Eggs may be served in many ways besides frying. In fact, frying is the least desirable because fried eggs are difficult to digest. They may be soft or hard, cooked in the shell, poached, baked, plain, baked with cheese or rice, scrambled, creamed, scalloped, made into omelet, used in puddings, fondues, souffles, egg toast, soft custards, fruit whips, or in sandwich fillings.

Urge Lessening Fire Hazards

During the fall season, the burning of refuse, forest fires, and house fires due to heating equipment cause the greatest danger.

In many instances, fields are burned off when the very material that is being burned would provide necessary plant food for increase of crop production. The burning of fields causes greater erosion and destroys beneficial birds and animals whose existence may increase crop production through insect control. Fires in farm woods severely injure young trees, cause decay of usable trees, increase soil loss from 4 to 11 times more, and in no way benefit the woods. Wood products are and will be needed badly on the farm, in the cities, and in war industries.

Farm home heating equipment is responsible for 6 per cent of home fires and may cause serious loss of buildings that are not only costly but difficult to replace.

Statistics show that man causes nearly 99 per cent of all fires, and that 90 per cent of the total fire damage is due to carelessness. The hunter, camper, farmer, laborer, and business man may all contribute to war production by the careful observance of fire prevention precautions.

Milk Cows Require Much Water Daily

Milk cows require from 12 to 30 gallons of water daily, and the water should be clean and readily accessible says H. A. Herman of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture. During the winter months a tank heater or other adequate means of taking the chill off the water will pay good dividends. Restricted water consumption will result in lowered milk production.

Distribute Meat Over 52 Weeks

Figure now how many hogs your family needs to butcher for your 1943 food supply. Two and one-half pounds per week for an active adult for 52 weeks in a year means 30 pounds of beef, pork, veal, lamb, and mutton.

What part of that 30 pounds for you should be pork. How many are there in your family? How many of what size hogs does that mean your family should butcher? How much of that meat will be cured, how much canned, and how much used fresh. Remember there are 52 weeks in the year in which to distribute that meat.

Pins For 4-H Boys And Girls Be Presented

Outstanding Ones For Special Recognition

Two hundred and seventy-seven boys and girls enrolled in 4-H club projects have completed their project work and submitted their records to the county extension office. These boys and girls will be given recognition by presenting to them achievement pins next Saturday afternoon, November 21, 2:15 o'clock, County court room Court House, Sedalia.

Special recognition will be given to those boys and girls who have done outstanding work the past year. These include Anna Mae Wissman, food preparation; Bonnie Jean Thompson, clothing; Norma Demand, food preservation; Jack Blaylock, Ila Jane Bennett, Herbert Stevens, Harold Stevens, and Howard Stevens, vegetable production; Dorothy Helen White, home grounds; Wayne Hoehns, meat animals; James Schondelmeyer, Victory achievement; Anna Catherine Romig, outstanding work in Home Economics; and Donald Oehrke, woodwork. For leadership recognition Nadine Demand and Ralph Romig will receive special books.

As a further contribution to the war program 4-H club boys and girls receiving achievement pins are asked to bring in old or broken phonograph records and black walnuts. The hard hulls from the black walnuts will be used in the manufacture of gas masks. Parents and 4-H leaders are invited to attend and take part in this achievement program.

To Have Farm Safety Campaign

Accident prevention is as much a part of the war effort as any other conservation measure, and many home economics clubs in the state are including a home and farm safety campaign in their club programs for 1943 reports Miss Louise Woodruff of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture.

Included in the campaign will be discussions of the accident problem, demonstrations showing safe ways of doing household tasks, and safety exhibits. Check lists will be used to locate accident hazards in the home and on the farm. These local groups working to eliminate the accident hazards in their homes and communities are not only providing for the health and welfare of their families but at the same time are contributing to the strength of the nation.

War time is increasing the importance of safety on the farm and in the home. With increased demands on the strength of every individual, and fewer physicians left in the communities, the possibilities of home accidents must be cut to the minimum.

Home accidents in the United States, in 1941, claimed 31,500 lives and caused 4,650,000 non-fatal injuries of which 130,000 were permanent disabilities. The number of accidental deaths in homes during the year was over 50 per cent greater than in all other industries together. Most of these accidents are preventable.

Army Of AxisRommel Forces
Reel Back To 70
Miles Of Bengasi

By PAUL KERN LEE

CAIRO, Nov. 19.—(AP)—The fleeing axis army in Libya, with only 15 of its 500 first-line tanks left, reeled back Wednesday to within 70 miles of Bengasi with the British Eighth Army in pursuit on a broad front toward the El Agheila defile for what may well be the knockout punch.

Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, Middle East commander, said he expected Marshal Rommel's army to make a temporary stand there, but added:

"I don't think his present army can stand for long, unless reinforced. The enemy is groggy but not knocked out. The battle will not be ours until the enemy is lying senseless."

The battle of El Agheila, on the base of the Libyan hump and the eastern end of the gulf of Sirte 400 miles from Tripoli, is expected in about a week. The eighth army advanced 80 miles yesterday to within 230 miles of El Agheila and about 800 miles from the western boundary of Tunisia where the British first army and flying American columns are pressing eastward, closing the jaws of a great vise.

For the first time in days, axis planes were found in the desert near Bengasi, and 12 were destroyed without allied loss. Six were huge transports shot from the air; the others were destroyed on the ground. Allied bombers attacked Bengasi at low level, firing barges in the harbor.

Portions of the eighth army were pursuing Rommel's remnants in the vicinity of Barce. Another column was driving along a desert shortcut south of the Green coastal mountains from captured El Mechili toward Mus and El Agheila beyond.

Alexander said the axis was unable to use the shortcut because not much of Rommel's transport remains "desert-worthy." Rommel has lost 75,000 of his first line troops and the great bulk of his equipment. British casualties total only 12,600.

The British commander said Rommel may have received a trickle of tank reinforcements.

"He may have got some at Bengasi and he had repair shops back along the route, so it is very difficult to answer exactly how many tanks he has presently," he said.

El Agheila is flanked by the sea and boggy salt marshes and is a strong defense position comparable to El Alamein where the offensive started. It is the high-water mark of previous British advance and is the strongest position short of Tripoli.

The enemy, Alexander said, "will undoubtedly try a strong rear-guard action there while trying to withdraw and re-form the remainder of his forces at Tripoli."

De La Vigerie
Joins De Gaulle

LONDON, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Gen. D'astier De La Vigerie, who held one of the highest commands in the French air force, joined General Charles De Gaulle in London Wednesday.

De La Vigerie, whose rank is equivalent to that of an RAF air marshal, arrived with Leon Morand, prominent French trade unionist and a leading figure in the underground anti-axis movement.

The General commanded the French air force in northern France at the outbreak of the war. He is 57 and was a fighter ace in the last war.

Bertrande D'astiere De La Vigerie, 26, daughter of the general, was sentenced in August, 1941, to 13 months imprisonment in Vichy on a charge of De Gaulle activity. Her brother, Jean, was given a six months suspended sentence and fined 200 gold francs on the same charge.

Bertrande was accused of receiving De Gaulle leaflets to be distributed among students at Nimes and instructions for "facilitating plans for a foreign power against France."

Cramer Guilty
In Treason Case

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Anthony Cramer, 42-year-old mechanic accused of aiding two of the eight Nazi saboteurs landed by submarine on the Atlantic coast last June, was convicted of treason by a 12-man jury in federal court Wednesday night.

The jury deliberated slightly more than two hours on the case of Cramer who was charged with having met and extended "aid and comfort" to Warner Thiel and Edward J. Kerling after they were landed by a German submarine on the Florida coast.

Cramer, who will be sentenced next Wednesday by Judge Henry W. Goddard, faces a penalty ranging from five years prison sentence and $10,000 fine to death.

His treason trial was the third to end in conviction in 148 years.

Crash Of Plane
Was Accidental

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—(AP)—A coroner's jury, three members of which were aviation experts, returned a verdict Oct. 15 near the ported Wednesday that the crash of an army transport plane in which nine men died Oct. 15 near the Chicago municipal airport was accidental and that poor visibility was a contributing cause.

The jury's finding declared "there was no malfunctioning of personnel or equipment of the Municipal airport at which spot the plane was expected to land."

This was the air transport crash in which Captain Charles A. Daffoe, residing then with his family at 704½ South Kentucky avenue was one of the victims.

Propose Coinage Of Three Cent Pieces

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Legislation to permit coinage of three-cent pieces, half-dimes and pennies made from other materials than copper was approved Wednesday by the Senate banking and currency committee.

The bill was supported at committee hearings by representatives of the bureau of the mint, treasury, and the vending machine industry.

Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, director of the mint, testified that the war had deprived the mint of copper for pennies. She has appealed to the people to stop saving pennies and keep them in circulation.

Experiments had shown, Mrs. Ross said, that manufacture of pennies from steel and zinc would be practical. She said the mint and treasury had discussed the making of half-dimes—a coin smaller and markedly different from the nickel—to relieve the "pressure" on the nickel supply, and three-cent pieces to offset some of the demand for pennies.

Farms Are To Be ClassifiedTo Reclassify
Men Wanting To Leave Their Jobs

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—(AP)—

Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey announced Wednesday that men deferred as essential farm workers must get approval of their draft boards if they wish to leave their jobs or else be classified as available for immediate military service.

This applies to married men with children as well as to all others, Hershey's aides said, and is effective immediately.

The regulation was revealed in an announcement of instructions sent by Hershey to local boards covering provisions of the new draft act which lowers the minimum age to 18.

Order Reclassifying
In addition to ordering local boards to reclassify men who quit essential farm work without advance notice, the instructions forbade the boards to release any farm-deferred men "for voluntary enlistment in either land or naval forces."

Hershey's action also cleared the way for classification of farms themselves so as to distinguish "essential" from "non-essential" farms.

Asserting that farm workers would "not lose their deferment

if they change from one 'necessary' farm job to another or from one 'necessary' farm to another of the same nature," his announcement added:

"But if the deferred farm worker seeks to move from his 'necessary' farm to a job in industry or on a non-necessary farm or elsewhere, he must first obtain the permission of his local board."

Two new classifications were set up for deferred farm workers. Those with dependent wives, children or other grounds for dependency will be put in class 3-C and those without dependency grounds in class 2-C.

Those engaged in a part-time basis on "war-essential farms and farm jobs" and those "seasonally or temporarily engaged" will not be eligible for deferment, Hershey said.

No National 'Meatless Days'—They Just Don't Save Meat

By ANN FRANCES WILSON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Don't expect national meatless days to be plugged by the Food Requirements Committee. Though Agriculture Department head Wickard okayed La Guardia's meatless Tuesdays and the President himself said at a press conference that meatless days might be necessary, World War I found meatless days during the last war did not conserve meat—on the contrary, consumption was greater because of the doubled purchases of meat on the following day.

The Food Requirements Committee sticks to its original idea—the share-the-meat program whereby all may receive the same amount of meat regardless of higher purchasing power in the growing higher income brackets. With the share-the-meat program, the setting will be ready for rationing of meat when officially started in February.

Wrong Address

If you have scrap to feed to hungry war machines—refrain from sending it to the President. The White House is deluged by gifts from over-zealous scrappers who would rather see the scrap in the President's hands than their local salvage depots.

The White House, however, is delighted to find that citizens are parting with copper, steel and aluminum and objects of sentimental value only—but still immensely valuable to scrap-shy war plants.

Among gifts received is a vase molded from shells found during the Battle of the Argonne, contributed by a woman who had received it from soldiers returning from France in World War I. She's eager to see it back in the fray.

Palladium Rings

So you're about to be married and your heart is set on a platinum wedding ring, and you've read about the latest War Production Board release prohibiting the use of platinum in anything but essential war materials.

Don't worry. There is a substitute and it is just as good. It is palladium, a by-product of platinum, with all platinum's good points and not its bad one—the price. Palladium is half as expensive. What's more—it is so plentiful it has almost become a drug on the market. So you don't have to have a gold wedding ring if you don't want it.

Painted Furniture
Expect a definite swing towards

Painted furniture as soon as existing stocks of furniture have been sold from the stores. Reason is that WPB has stopped furniture manufacturers from using beech, yellow birch, and hard maple now used in great quantities. Manufacturers must hereafter use coarse grained and lower grade woods for all furniture, and these need plenty of paint if you want to use them in your living room. Mahogany furniture is out for the duration—the wood is imported—but aspen and pecan woods are fine substitutes, and they're native grown. Among the less critical woods are chestnut which may be substituted for oak, magnolia which will take the place of birch, soft maple and beech. Butternut and cherry can replace walnut. The trend, however, is definitely toward modern, simple furniture with the minimum of frills. And these will be painted to harmonize with modern settings or quaint Pennsylvania Dutch interiors.

Nylon Waste

Don't expect to see many more advertisements for clothes made of nylon fleece. Nylon fleece is made of part nylon wastes and part cotton. The services need all the available nylon for nylon yarn so the new material is out for the duration.

For Class Ads, Phone 1000.

Sharing The Meat

Using leftover meat and making the best use of fresh meat is not going to be a game of culinary solitaire for the American homemaker. Plans are now under way for the full cooperation of all food industries to help the lady of Uncle Sam's house "share the meat."

The other day a group of home economists meeting with representatives of the meat industry heard Dr. Louise Stanley, chief of the Bureau of Home Economics of the Department of Agriculture, outline the government's plan for stretching the meat supply of the country. She called for the return of plenty of bread and gravy and the wise use of cereals to help stretch the food value of meat. Cereals are plentiful and the supply of wheat and wheat flour is the greatest in our history.

Enriched flour from bulging granaries is America's most economical and efficient extender of meat, for enriched flour not only supplements the B-vitamin and iron value of the diet, it is also an important source of protein. Enriched flour combined with milk and other ingredients to make enriched bread and enriched biscuit makes this staple a good source of this food essential. The protein of flour and bread are largely responsible for the pleasant way these foods have of absorbing the delicious meat flavor. Thus they make a little meat taste like quite a lot.

The delicate flavor and light texture of enriched bread and enriched biscuit combine most deliciously with meat flavors. Southern hospitality has boasted of hot biscuits and gravy for generations. Folks above the Mason-Dixon line who have not mopped up the last drop of luscious brown pork gravy on a hot bit of flaky biscuit have certainly missed a delicious treat.

Crusty, biscuit-topped meat pies or meat turnovers blanketed between flaky layers of pastry are dishes that do more than help "share the meat," they make meat sharing a real pleasure.

For the "Share-the-Meat" section of recipe files, we present two new recipes using both enriched bread and enriched biscuit.

4 cups enriched bread cubes; 2 cups cubed, cooked meat; 1½ teaspoons salt; ½ teaspoon pepper; 2 eggs; 2 cups meat broth or milk or vegetable juice from canned vegetables.

Mix bread cubes and meat. Beat egg, add stock or milk, salt and pepper. Pour over bread mixture. Mix well. Pour into greased 9" ring mold or 8x8x2" baking pan. (Lining the bottom of the mold with narrow strip of waxed paper prevents sticking.) Press firmly into mold. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 45 minutes. Serve with creamed vegetables or tomato sauce. Yield: 6 servings.

Topsy-Turvy Meat Square

Meat Filling:
1 cup ground meat (½ lb.); 1 tablespoon fat; ½ teaspoon salt; ¼ teaspoon pepper; 1½ tablespoons chopped onion; ¼ cup condensed tomato soup or ½ cup canned tomatoes; 1¼ cup cooked green beans, drained.

Drop Biscuit Topping:
2 cups sifted enriched flour; 2½ teaspoons baking powder; ½ teaspoon salt; ¼ cup shortening; 1 cup milk (about).

Brown onion in fat, add salt and pepper. Cook 5 minutes. Add tomato soup and beans. Pour into greased 8x8x2" pan. To make Drop Biscuit Topping, sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Cut in shortening. Add milk and stir until flour is moistened. Spread over meat mixture in pan. Bake 25 minutes in a hot oven (450° F.). * Serve with tomato sauce. Yield: 6 servings.

Let Youngsters Help You Out In The Kitchen

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Service Staff Writer
Everyone is learning to be useful today, even the children. Now comes along a well-planned cook book for teaching youngsters how to cook well and thriftily. It belongs in the "must" list for mothers who are busy and need help at home. Written by Wilma Lord Perkins, the "Fannie Farmer Junior Cook Book" will make teaching the children to be useful in the kitchen easy for parents and children alike.

Here are two recipes which show how easy it is even for the littlest cooks to prepare good dishes.

French Onion Soup

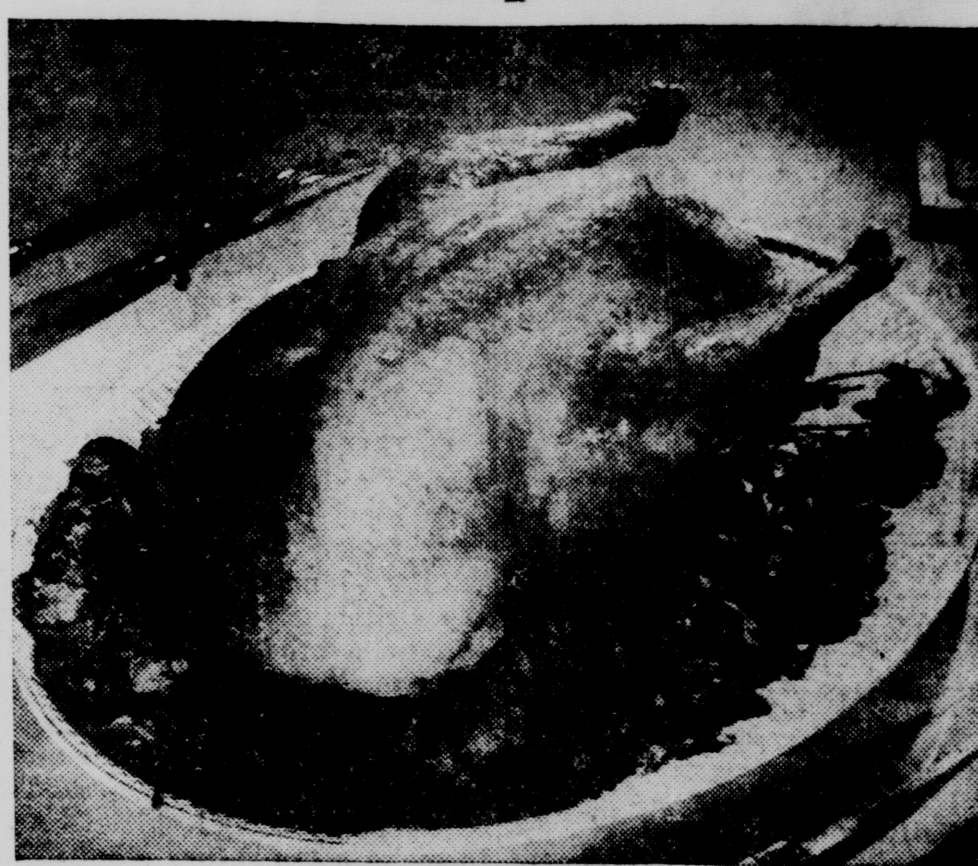

(Serves 4—in bowls)
Two small onions, 2 tablespoons butter, 4 cups consommé, 2 tablespoons grated cheese.

Melt butter in large saucepan. Add onions sliced thin. Cook 5 minutes or until they are tender. They should be yellow, not brown.

If you like onion soup slightly thickened, stir in 1 tablespoon flour at this point and cook 1 minute longer. Add the consommé. You will find canned consommé particularly successful. Chicken stock gives a delicate flavor, especially when used with Bermuda-type onions. Add salt to taste.

Simmer 30 minutes. Place a slice of toast, cut round, in each of 4 or 5 soup bowls. French bread makes the prettiest toast for this soup. Fill the bowls with soup and sprinkle with cheese. Set in oven to heat. Serve piping hot. Pass extra cheese, if you like.

Pillsbury's BARBECUE FRANKS

... snuggled in rolls of flakiest, tenderest biscuit... from that dependable all-purpose flour, Pillsbury's Best!

MAKE YOUR MEAT GO FARTHER WITH PILLSBURY'S BARBECUE FRANKS
... happy eating for 6 to 8 at about 11c apiece!
TEMPERATURE: 400° F. TIME: about 40 minutes
• 1½ cups chopped onions
• 1½ cups chopped celery
• 3 tablespoons chopped green pepper
• 3 tablespoons fat or shortening
• 4 tablespoons PILLSBURY'S BEST Enriched Flour
• 2½ cups salt
(Pillsbury's Best adds two essential B-vitamins and iron to the appetizing baked foods your family loves. This enrichment in no way changes its creamy-white color, its mellow whey flavor, or its dependable baking qualities.)
1. Fry onions, celery, and green pepper in fat, remove from heat. Drain. 2. Combine flour and seasonings with remaining 2 tablespoons fat to make smooth paste. Add tomatoes gradually to flour mixture, and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add catsup and mustard. 3. Add lima beans and celery mixture; heat thoroughly. Save out 3 cups of mixture; turn rest into 11x7x2-inch (1½ or 2-quart) baking dish.
• 1½ teaspoon pepper
• 2½ cups fat or shortening
• 3½ cups (No. 2½ can) tomatoes
• 6 tablespoons catsup
• 5 cups prepared mustard
• 1 cup canned or cooked lima beans, well drained

Now for that heavenly Pillsbury biscuit—
• 2 cups sifted PILLSBURY'S BEST Enriched Flour
• 2 teaspoons baking powder (or 2 teaspoons double-acting)
Imagine savory meat and vegetable flavors blending with those exquisitely tender, flaky biscuits! And remember, no matter what you want to bake, be it biscuits like these, or delicious cakes, cookies, pies, or the finest home-made breads you ever baked, Pillsbury's Best is exactly the flour you need. For Pillsbury's Best is a truly all-purpose flour. It's truly dependable, too, for it's BAKE-PROVED by actual baking tests 4 to 6 times daily during milling. Satisfaction guaranteed or your money back.
1. Sift flour once, measure; add baking powder and salt; sift again. 2. Cut in shortening, until mixture resembles coarse meal. Add milk all at once; mix only until all flour is dampened. 3. Knead a few seconds on lightly floured board to smooth surface. Roll out dough into 12x8-inch rectangle, cut into six Good! They'll love every morsel of this thrifty busy-day dinner! And they'll get something extra from it, too—because Pillsbury's Best is enriched with two essential B-vitamins and iron. Bake it tonight—and you'll depend on Pillsbury's Best for all your baking from now on.

Eat These German Dishes To Speed the Allied Victory

Pigs' knuckles and sauerkraut—an American housewife's tasty substitute for the steaks and roasts the United Nations need for their service men.

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Service Staff Writer
Steaks and chops and good roasts are fine and dandy. But today, with war demanding that every citizen learn to use all kinds of meats, it is our job to learn how to cook good dishes made of other meats than just our favorites.

Knuckles And Sauerkraut (Serves 4)

Four pigs' knuckles, 2½ cups water, 1 teaspoon salt, 1½ tablespoons lemon juice, 2 tablespoons chopped onion, 3 tablespoons chopped celery leaves.

Wash pigs' knuckles well. Place in saucepan. Add other ingredients and water. Bring to the boiling point; lower heat and simmer slowly until tender, about 4 hours. Remove knuckles and serve with sauerkraut.

Barbecued Spare Ribs
One half pound spare ribs for each person to be served, ½ cup lemon juice, ½ cup butter or other shortening, 1 clove garlic.

GREASES and FATS NEEDED NOW!

Every pound urgently required. Save all you can't use yourself. Sell it to your local butcher—regularly. See him for details—today.
Attention Butchers: Standard Rendering Co., 635 Adams, Kansas City, Kans., is an official collector. Top prices paid. Phone Harrison 1545 or write.

½ cup warm water, 1 onion, chopped, 1 teaspoon chili powder, 1 can thick tomato soup or stewed tomatoes, 1 crushed bay leaf.

Broil spareribs until golden brown. Make a sauce of other ingredients by placing shortening in saucepan and adding onion and garlic. When onion is tender, add lemon juice to which chili powder has been added. Then add soup and water. Crush bay leaf and add; simmer until all ingredients are thoroughly cooked together. Serve the hot sauce over piping hot spare ribs.

Tomorrow's Menu
Breakfast: Baked apples, oatmeal, rye bread toast, jelly, coffee, milk.

Luncheon: Black bean soup with sliced frankfurters, whole wheat hard rolls, cabbage salad, cup custard, tea, milk.

Dinner: Barbecued spare ribs, mashed potato, green beans, green salad, pumpkin pie, cheese, coffee, milk.

Turkey a la king takes on new holiday dress when served over biscuits pepped up with sage or poultry seasoning. One-half teaspoonful of seasoning for each cup of flour, sifted with the dry ingredients for thorough blending, makes biscuit dough with just the right touch.

WILLIAM JEFFERS
ANASME

Willie Pep To Meet Chalky Wright Friday

By SID FEDER

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Willie Pep used to be a bootblack, which may or may not be the reason the good folks of Connecticut think he's such a shining favorite to polish off Chalky Wright in their featherweight title scrap tomorrow night in Madison Square Garden.

Nevertheless, Pep—the real name was Papaleo until Willie decided to give his rooters (and the linotypers) a break—is such a standout from the state that is famous for production of top-flight featherweights that his ruckus with Wright is going to bring more folks into the Garden from the nutmeg state than any punch-party in Garden history.

Of course, the fact that Willie has won 53 fights in a row and throws punches with about as much rhyme and reason as an ack-ack gun on the loose isn't going to hurt the fan interest. However, from all indications—including communiques from Promoter Mike Jacobs' counting houses—the neighborhoods of New Haven and Hartford are going to look like deserted villages come Friday. In spite of transportation problems, "Uncle Mike" estimated today that some 7,500 to 10,000 fans are coming down to see this one any way they can, and that includes some hitch-hiking and possibly a few on yak-back, if there are any on hand. (Yaks, that is).

Chicago Bowling Tourney December 5

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Chicago's second annual all star bowling tournament became just about the nation's No. 1 ten-pin show today with cancellation of the 1943 ABC tournament.

The nine-day event will open here December 5 and will draw a field of approximately 100 of the country's leading bowlers.

Tigers Go To Jeff City Friday Night

Defeated The Jays Earlier In Season; All-Seniors Start

Friday night will be the last game for the Smith-Cotton Tigers who go to Jefferson City to meet the Jays of the Capital City for the second time this season. It will be homecoming for the Jefferson City school and in spite of the defeat suffered at the hands of the Tigers two weeks ago, they hope to stop the Sedalians.

The Smith-Cotton lineup will be quarterback, Parker at fullback, ing of the whistle on the opening of the game. Coach Jimmy Obermiller announced this morning his choice of the seniors to give them an honor. Some are first stringers and others play on the third squad but Friday night they will start the game.

Landers and Thomas at ends, Biggs and Tate, tackles; Allen and Smith, guards; Hall at center. The backfield: Lutgen at quarterback, Parker, fullback, Johnson and Bast, half backs. Other seniors who will get into the game are Strole, tackle; Harrington, guard; White, end; and Van Dyne, half back.

Ten more players making the trip are: Hulse, Weaver, Lamm, Keithley, McKelvey, Capes, Shea, Gardner, Rayl, Horman and Buri Sammons, team manager. Jefferson City last Friday suffered a trouncing at the hands of Missouri Military Academy of Mexico, who ran up a score of 41 to 7. M. M. A., according to information reaching Sedalia did not pull any punches in the game. It was M. M. A. who ruined a beautiful season for the Tigers by defeating the local eleven 12-0. Sedalia, however, two weeks ago defeated the Jefferson City team by a score of 25-0.

The game will start at eight o'clock.

Raids On Nazi 'Sub' Bases

LONDON, Nov. 19.—(AP)—American flying fortress and Liberator bombers dropped heavy loads of high explosives on Nazi Atlantic submarine bases Wednesday for the fourth time within 10 days in the aerial offensive designed to disrupt the axis concentration of U-boats warring on north African convoy routes.

The submarine sheds of La Pallice and Lorient were raided at a cost of one bomber.

The brief American communiqué did not give the results of the attacks. La Pallice is near La Rochelle, 350 miles from the nearest British coast. Lorient is on the south side of the Breton peninsula.

St. Nazaire, another submarine base, was attacked yesterday. La Pallice and St. Nazaire were raided Nov. 14 and St. Nazaire was hit Nov. 9.

German U-boats used these ports as bases for their war on convoys in the North Atlantic and western European waters.

Squadrons of allied fighters, meanwhile, made several sweeps over northwest France and, although they flew close to the German air force bases, not a single German plane showed itself.

The fighters took another crack at the creaking German communications system by wrecking or damaging 10 freight engines.

Members of one Spitfire squadron alone damaged four locomotives and left an oil storage tank smoking.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—(AP)—National hockey league officials are talking of the best things they do about reducing the player limit to 13 men. . . . This is important mainly because hockey is the first sport to feel the real wallop of the war. What happens to it now may be to the others later. . . . You can imagine the effects if other sports start cutting—football squads two deep, 16-man baseball squads, etc. . . . But it's one way of spreading out the available manpower.

Missing 'Em Quick

Winding up the football selection season with no more idea of what's what than we had at the start: Boston College, Georgia and Georgia Tech (automatically) Army over Princeton, Columbia over Dartmouth, Harvard over Yale, Missouri over Fordham, Wisconsin (home team) over Minnesota, Ohio State over Michigan, Notre Dame over North western, Alabama over Vanderbilt, North Carolina over Virginia. . . . When it comes to the southwest and Pacific Coast we give up.

Scrap Collection

Although bowl talk is taboo at Boston College, word is that the B. C. seniors would prefer the Orange bowl to the Sugar bowl because they've visited New Orleans three times but never have seen Miami. . . . Esther Wrona, Michigan women's speed skating champion, recently was awarded a $1,000 war bond by the Saginaw, Mich., defense plant where she works, for figuring out how to save 470-manhours a month in manufacturing machine guns. . . . Still cutting the corners close, eh? . . . Pete Reiser, the Dodgers' outfielder, is undergoing treatment in St. Louis for the after effects of that bump on the head he got last summer.

Today's Guest Star

Les Coates, Salt Lake City Desert News: "The acquisition of a winning football team would seem to involve a matter of ethics. But nevertheless you can't cheer an ethic."

Tip From Ted

Gordon Cobbledick of the Cleveland Plain Dealer reports that the reason Ted Williams got so few long hits off Indian pitchers late last season was that Ted, himself, gave Lou Boudreau a hint on how he could be stopped. . . . "Once a pitcher shows me his fast ball I can hit anything he throws," Ted remarked during the all-star game. "I time everything by the hard one. Until I see it, I'm liable to have trouble with his other stuff." . . . Boudreau very promptly ordered his pitchers to throw nothing but curves and slow stuff to Ted until they had two strikes on him.

Mobley-Wilson Are Two Top Ball Carriers

Bob Steuber Still In Running For Total Offense Yard Gains

BY ARNOLD DERLITZKI

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Rudolph (Little Doc) Mobley and six-foot Camp Wilson, the long and short of unbeaten Hardin-Simmons' devastating running attack, are well on their way to becoming the top two ball carriers of 1942 football.

If they succeed, it will mark the first time in modern records that two members of the same team have run one-two in national rushing figures.

Mobley, already credited with a season's record-breaking rushing total of 1,145 yards in seven games, has first place virtually sewed up. Wilson must beat out Missouri's Bob Steuber and Ohio State's Gene Fekete for the runner-up position.

Although playing in fewer games, Wilson trails Fekete by only 20 yards and Steuber by 51. Figures released today by the American Football Statistical Bureau show Steuber with 843 yards in nine games; Fekete 817 in eight games. Wilson has 797 yards in seven contests with two more to play.

Together, Mobley and Wilson have Hardin-Simmons leading the nation in rushing with an average of 350 yards a game, 40 yards better than the record set by Colorado in 1937. In fact, the two would be outdistancing complete backfield units of every college eleven in the country if it weren't for four teams—Ohio State, Boston college, Missouri and Texas. Meantime, Frankie Sinkwich, the Georgia powerhouse, is running and passing his way toward the 2,000 yard mark in total offense. He has a 1,815 total gained by running 692 yards and passing for 1,123 and still has two games to go. The record is 1,928 yards.

Total offense—Governor, Columbia, 148 yards rushing, 1,218 yards passing; Dutton, Pittsburgh, 676-580; Steuber, Missouri, 848-335; Mobley, Hardin-Simmons, 1149-0; Evans, Kansas, 234-881; McKay, Texas, 661-418; G. Dobbs, Tulsa, 298-766; Graham, Northwestern, 224-827; Hillenbrand, Indiana, 317-692.

Rushing—After Mobley, Steuber, Fekete and Wilson came Holovak, Boston college, 743 yards in 7 games; Hirsch, Wisconsin, 724 in 9; Kennedy, Washington State, 712 in 7.

Passing—(ranked on completions), Evans, Kansas, 83 passes for 881 yards; Governor, 76 for 1218; Gillette, Virginia, 71 for 793; Sinkwich, 68 for 1123; Graham, 66 for 837; Daniels, Texas A. & M., 62 for 701; G. Dobbs, 53 for 766; Bertelli, Notre Dame, 51 for 735.

Punting—Cifers, Tennessee, 44.5 average; W. Flynn, Harvard, 43.62; Faircloth, North Carolina State, 42.65; Douglas, Dartmouth, 42.58.

Pass receiving—Rogers, Texas A. & M. caught 35 for 412 yards; Ferguson, California, 24 for 306; Salem, Texas Mines, 24 for 314; Judd, Tulsa, 23 for 312; Kelleher, Columbia, 22 for 395.

WHITHER HITLER?

1. INVASION OF BRITAIN? Unlikely, although Hitler may try it as a desperate diversion move. Many allied troops and planes sent to north Africa, but Britain still has powerful forces at home and holds air superiority.

2. GIBRALTAR GRAB? Nazis may follow occupation of southern France with drive through Spain toward Britain's strongly guarded rock. But allies from Africa could counter by streaming into Spain via Morocco and Gibraltar.

3. ATTACK IN AFRICA? Out-numbered in Tunis, his forces on the run in Libya, Hitler faces loss of all north Africa unless his planes in Sicily, Italy and Crete can win air superiority and hold off allies. Axis is organized for air action in Mediterranean, may make main offensive here.

4. THRUST THROUGH TURKEY? Ideal move to flank Russians in drive for Baku oil, to seize oil of Iraq and Iran, and to strike at Suez from rear to take allied pressure off Libya. Axis well prepared for such an attack, but would face big Turkish army, Britain's strong near east forces.

5. OFFENSIVE IN RUSSIA? Forced to draw troops from Russian front to guard Balkans, Hitler may have to abandon drives on Stalingrad and Caucasus. Winter also a barrier to continued offensive on this front.

Mrs. Aitkens Guilty In The Death Of Niece

Verdict Of 18 Years In Prison For The Slayer

LEXINGTON, Mo., Nov. 19.—(P)—Circuit court jurors Wednesday night found Mrs. Ida Aitkens guilty of second-degree murder in the September 1, 1940 slaying of her 14-month-old niece, and fixed the penalty at 18 years imprisonment in the state penitentiary.

The verdict was read at 8:40 p. m. after jurors had deliberated more than three hours. Mrs. Aitkens began to sob. It was the first time in the three-day trial her composure had broken.

She was weeping as Deputy Sheriff Lambert Schlueter led her to the jail, and Judge Robert D. Johnson called her back to the court room.

He was sorry, he told her, for "anyone who is in trouble—but the law is the law and justice must be served." He informed her she has until December 18 to file an appeal.

Earlier in the day, Mrs. Aitkens denied from the witness stand that she had killed the baby and testified she had signed a confession only because she was "hungry and nervous and wanted to get home to her boys."

She accused officers of obtaining the statement in the Jackson county jail (Kansas City) by beating her, swearing and threatening her. She asserted one of them "made advances unbecoming a gentleman."

Jack Bryce, special investigator for the Jackson county sheriff's office, testified yesterday that the woman had accompanied officers to her home in Plattsburg and reenacted the slaying. Today she said officers told her just where to stand and what to do as they took pictures.

Mrs. Aitkens was convicted and sentenced to 20 years in prison at her first trial but the state supreme court ordered a retrial because the court reporter died before transcribing the record of the first one.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste

If you have an excess of acids in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be over-worked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Kidneys may need help the same as bowels; so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Greater Call For Bibles Than In 1941

Indicates Nation Seeks Solace In Prayer And Religion

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—(P)—There's a boom in the Bible business—quite convincing proof that a nation at war is seeking solace in prayer.

But the mothers, wives and sweethearts of the men in the armed forces aren't the only buyers of the Bibles, says an authority on the distribution of the Testaments and Gospels. They're being sold to all classes of people, and sales this year, he stated, probably would be 25 per cent more than in 1941.

Dr. Robert Taylor, executive secretary of the Chicago Bible Society and representative of the American Bible Society, termed the condition "an amazing Bible revival," and said that "America is discovering the Bible again."

Spiritual Renaissance
"It isn't just a flareup caused by the war but is the result of a real spiritual renaissance which has been coming on for some time but has been quickened by the war."

He said that many of the large publishing firms were weeks behind in their orders and that the American Bible Society, which normally distributes 10,000,000 copies annually, is running several days behind schedule.

The tempo of orders, Dr. Taylor said, began to rise last spring and the increase "has constantly accelerated until it is hard to control."

Greater Distribution
As evidence of the upswing in business, he pointed to the distribution of 1,500,000 Bibles and portions in 12 central states last year as compared to the 2,500,000 expected to be sent out this year.

Demand for the scriptures for the armed forces, Dr. Taylor said, "has been unparalleled." The American Bible Society has given away 800,000 testaments through chaplains and in addition it has sold 250,000 copies to churches to be given to the men in service.

The society provides the service men with moisture proof testaments bound in the color of their uniforms, with the proper insignia.

Dr. Taylor explained that testaments now carry supplements of psalms, hymns, and prayers so that if no chaplain is present, men of the ranks or officers may conduct informal devotions.
